"Isn't this expensive?"

"Forget about the cost mother, I'm calling station-to-station"

That's right! Long distance telephone service is even more reasonable when you call station-to-station. Actually, rates are about one third lower than person-to-person. By calling station-to-station you can make three calls for the price of two.

Just give the long distance operator the city and number you're calling and tell her you'll talk with anyone who answers. There's no sacrifice in service either... just a sizeable saving for you. And if you call after 6 p.m. or all day Sunday, you'll find the already low rates are even lower.

PTA Receives Donation; Plans Arbor Day Event

Gerald Sheetz, commander of the local Walter S. Eber-sole Post 185 American Legion, made a presentation of a check for one hundred dollars to the Elm Tree Elementary School at the Monday night meeting of the school's PTA group. He presented the check to John Hershey, president of the PTA, to be used as the group desires.

The group decided to observe Arbor Day with a special program at the school. In observance of the spring holiday, they plan to plant an elm tree near the school in memory of the late Mrs. Miriam Seldomridge who had been a teacher in the school until her death during the school year.

Robert Eshelman, superintendent of the elementary schools of the Manheim system, introduced the guidance counselors of the district, Miss Kay Hood and Jay Wolmer. The two held a panel discussion on the correlation of the elementary and secondary schools. Also included on the program was special music played by Miss Mary Weidman on the marimba; group singing led by Mrs. Elsie Hossler; and the devotions by Jacob Harnish.

Approximately 100 persons attended the meeting and the sixth grade was given the award for having the greatest percentage of parents present. Refreshments were in charge of the kindergarten and first grade mothers. The next meeting will be held on April 15.
