Army Reserve Changes Made

The U. S. Army has made two changes in its Reserve Forces program, designed to give additional benefits to enlistees.

Major F. T. Krupinski, Senior Unit Advisor of the local Army Reserve Training Center, 120 N. Lime St., Lancaster, today outlined the changes.

Those men 17 to 18½ years old may now take 6 months active duty, three years training in the Ready Reserve and 4½ years in the inactive Standby Reserve.

Formerly, they were required to spend 7½ years in the Ready Reserve, which means drill once a week and summer camp.

Those from 18½ to 25 will spend six months on active duty and 5½ years in the Ready Reserve program. During that time they will be "Draft Delayed", which means they will not be drafted if they perform reserve duty satisfactorily.

Formerly, those men spent six full years with the Ready Reserve, but were subject to draft at any time.

Full details of the new set up are available at the USAR Training Center.

STORE TO BECOME SELF-SERVICE

Martin's Store, East Main Street, is undergoing renovations to change the store into a self-service store. Although business will be carried on as usual during the renovations, the work begun Monday will be completed in the near future.

New counters will be erected and check-out booths will be placed in one of the present show-windows. Johnson Martin is owner of the variety store.

GOLD BADGE IS AWARDED TWO

Sandra Kretzing and Robert Gesler were named to wear the gold badge for the week among the local sixth grade patrolmen for the week. The two helped a small boy who had injured his eye.

Plans were made for a patrol party to be held May 4, at the fire house at their weekly meeting Tuesday in addition to final plans for the Teddy Bears, and not old annual patrolmen's parade in Lancaster Saturday.
