Scouts Attend Camporee

Mount Joy Boy Scouts and Explorers attended the western district camporee at Stony Gulch between Billmyer and Conoy Creek over the weekend. Over 400 boys attended the western district camporee. Local Boy Scouts were accompanied by Harold Eissel, Scoutmaster; Donald Zerphoy and Harold Milligan assistants. Explorers were accompanied by Charles Buchenauer, Explorer advisor; and Warren Heisey, assistant.

Three district camporees were held in the county over the weekend which included over 1,000 boys. They were designed to test Scout skill and camping proficiency. Wilbur Nissley was western district director.

Scouts were unable to attend the Sunday church service in a body because of the conflicting activity. They are also unable to parade as a unit Thursday morning because most of the members are included in the Mt. Joy Elementary and Donegal high school bands. Boy Scouts have been assisting in the annual poppy sale in the borough which is sponsored by the local VFW.
