Officials Plan Jamboree

Boy Scout officials report excellent progress in preparing the site at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania for the Fourth National Jamboree, to be held next July 12 to 18.

A 1,500-acre tent city will house more than 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and leaders from all parts of the nation and some from other lands. It will have its own water, electricity and telephone exchange, post offices, and other services for the largest gathering of boys in the western hemisphere.

About one hundred special trains and hundreds of buses will transport Scouts to the Jamboree. Railroads are giving jamboree participants special railroad rates and assisting in planning routes so that Scouts may visit leading cities and scenic spots before and after the jamboree.

Contingents will arrive during the three days before the jamboree's opening date, July 12. Three days will be needed to speed the Scouts home after the jamboree closes the evening of July 18.

The jamboree campers will be at least twelve years old, holding Second Class rank or higher. The jamboree is a self-sustaining enterprise made possible by the fifty dollar jamboree fee paid by each participant.

National, state, and local health and protective agencies are cooperating to give the jamboree a health and safety record better than the average city of 50,000 population. Doctors from home areas will travel and live with the contingents. Each jamboree Scout and Explorer is checked by a physician at home and again upon his arrival at the jamboree.

Already completed is the stage 300 feet wide and 100 feet deep in front of a natural amphitheatre that will hold about 55,000 jamboree campers and guests. Spectacular programs are planned for the opening evening, July 12, and the farewell program on the evening of July 18.

Outstanding Americans will participate in both programs. Campfires and daytime demonstrations will give each Scout a chance to show his stuff or be entertained and instructed by the other fellows' skills.

Each night, radio-controlled trucks will deliver fresh dairy products, meat, fruit the nation.

Sale Attracts Antique Dealers

Saturday's public sale at the Paul Bohl property, 163 Manheim Street, attracted antique dealers from a wide area, including local buyers and from Philadelphia, Virginia and Maryland.

The 7 1/2-hour sale was auctioneered by Walter Dupes. Some of the sales' prices included the following: fly chaser, $8.50; rolled paper pictures, $6.25; hat pin, $1.50; old phonograph, $16.50; cake plate, $10; six beer mugs, $23; china chicken plate, $15; rocker $14.50; tin tea kettle, $3; tin pan, $5.25; seven cookie cutters, $2.75; brass kettle, $9; tin oil can, $3; tin oil lamp, $8; tin candle mold, $9; two copper ladles, $7.50 each; old iron sundial, $5.50; shoe scraper, $5.50; toy cart with horse, $38; iron toy, $15; brass bell, $7; highboy, $100; marble top tables and dressers from $11 to $35; and vegetables to commissary refrigerators. It will be high-quality food, bought by the carload, to fit well-balanced menus.

Troops will get their food and cooking supplies before each meal at sectional commissary tents. Jamboree campers will cook their own meals and share the daily camp chores. Each patrol or crew member will share such tasks as fire builder, cook, and "cleaner-upper". Thanks to the use of over one million paper plates there won't be a dishwashing problem.

The jamboree camp inhabitants will have plenty of time to pick up camping techniques through inter-camp visits, displays, campfires and demonstrations.

There will be excursions to historic shrines in and near Philadelphia.

Sunday, July 14 will bring one of the most impressive thrills to the jamboree. In several religious services, each conducted in designated areas simultaneously, is more than 50,000 boys and leaders to their own faiths, all united in the freedom of their right to worship God.

The sprawling tent city will be governed by the Scout Oath and Law and administered by teams of national, sectional, and troop Scouting leaders. Scoutmasters and their assistants are being carefully selected locally for the responsibility of leading the jamboree troop.

For many of the 50,000 participants it will be a "once in a lifetime" experience seeing America and camping with others from all parts of the nation.
