PLATTER
 CHATTER
 By Nancy Rainbolt

The new releases are very numerous right now. Newcomers to the recording business are popping up constantly, fighting to get to the top. But when one singer finally gets a hit, and it goes soaring to the top, he immediately starts looking for another record that will be a follow-up success to the first. That is what has been happening lately.

An old one done up in popular style by Fats Domino is "What Will I Tell My Heart", (certain people do not like the way he says "Heart") But I still think it will be a big one for Fats.

Jim Reeves did so well with his "Four Walls", he has another predicted hit, "Young Hearts".

"Lasting Love" and "You Shouldn't Do That," are two new releases by Sal Mineo. The first-mentioned is a slow ballad type, while the second, is a fast rock'n roll rhythm like his hit, "Start Movin'".

"Over The Mountain Across The Sea" by Johnnie and Joe went over so well, they have done it again with "It Was There". I think this one will do quite well also.

A real nice fast number "Am I Blue" is done up by Eddie Cochran. Also fast, "That'll Be The Day" by the Crickets.

Two new singing groups have come out with two nice platters. I like them both. "Tonight, Tonight", by the Mellow-Tones, and "Mr. Lee" by the Bobbettes.

A rockin' instrumental is going over great, "Rockin' Pneumonia and the Boogie Woogie Flu", by Huey Smith
