LANDISVILLE NEWS
James W. McElfatrick, of Phoenixville, Chester County, District Governor of 14-D, Lions International, was the guest speaker Monday night at the Landisville Lions Club. The district governor stressed the importance of each member working vigorously in the project of the local and international groups.

McElfatrick was introduced by Deputy District Governor Raymond G. Herr of Willow Street Lions Club. Ten Lions Clubs from Lancaster County were represented at the meeting with a total of 55 members and guests attending.

Following the regular meeting, representatives from each of six clubs in Zone B held a meeting conducted by E. Robert Nolt, zone chairman and immediate past president of the Landisville club. Henry S. Lehman, president, presided at the regular club meeting.

A discussion on the advantages of a union school district was held at the Farmdale Elementary School last Tuesday night by representatives of the Hempfield Joint School District. The panel discussion, open to the public, was sponsored by the Farmdale Parents Club. Heading the panel were Arthur A. Hackman and several members of the district's joint board.

Each of the three separate boards in the district voted the change to the union-type set-up last summer, with the final decision to be determined by the voters of East and West Hempfield Townships and Mountville borough at the general elections in November.

A Landisville resident was one of the featured contestants on the Ted Mack Original Amateur Hour television program last Monday night. She is Mary Horst, of 220 Broad Street, who appeared on the nation-wide telecast as a soprano vocalist, singing an operatic aria. She was called to New York for an audition and was selected from a field of 125 aspirants.

Mary Horst has appeared at the Ephrata American Legion as well as with the Lancaster Little Theatre and in several Philadelphia concerts. She is a vocalist with a Lancaster church choir and has sung at the Zion Lutheran Church in Landisville frequently. She is studying at a voice school in Philadelphia as well as operating her own beauty salon.

Approximately 30 persons attended a square dance last Saturday night sponsored by the Couples Club of the Zion Lutheran Church, Landisville, held at the Landisville Fire Hall. Calling for the square dance was Mr. Francis Markert, Rehrestown.

Refreshments were served following the dances. Program chairmen for the event were Mr. and Mrs. William C. Piper, Mr. and Mrs. P. Glenn Stehman, and Mr. and Mrs. John Haberle.

Philip C. Swarr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Swarr, 87 Main Street, Landisville, has been enrolled at the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Ill. Swarr graduated from Hempfield high school this past spring where he was active in musical groups.

The institute, founded more than 70 years ago by D. L. Moody, has 1000 resident students who are preparing to be pastors, missionaries, church musicians and
