It's a fact that:

Today's gasoline is the biggest bargain on your shopping list. In the last five years gasoline quality has increased tremendously, but the price of gasoline has gone up only 2 1/2 cents a gallon. (However, for every dollar you pay for fuel itself, you pay an additional 40 cents* in federal and state taxes.) Still, gasoline itself costs less than many other items you buy today. Yes, with today's gasoline you're driving a real bargain!
