To Organize Adult Farm Class

An adult farmers' class will be organized next Tuesday, Dec. 17, in the agriculture room of the Donegal high school, 7:30 p.m. Any man beyond high school age is invited to enroll in the class. Grant Miller, vocational agricultural instructor announced. The meeting Tuesday night will be the organizational meeting. The class will meet up at that time, the nights for meetings will be decided and the fields to be covered during the course of the class will be decided by the members. Tentative plans call for experts in various fields to speak to the class at later times. The minimum number of persons needed for a class of this type will be ten members.

Add Deer Story

A father and son pair last week did well in the mountains of Columbia county!

Within a few hours after the deer season opened, both men had made their kills. Russell Chapin, 20 north Jacob street, claimed a 5-point buck about 8 o'clock. About the middle of the afternoon son David, 123 Delta street, killed a beautiful 10-point buck. When weighed later at Wolgemuth's Mill in Florin, he weighed 161 pounds. Known in the area where he roamed as the "Old Man's Stag," the buck had a near-perfect rack.

Another first-day kill shortly after the opening hour was a spike buck by James Brubaker, Mount Joy R1, in Lycoming county.

Mortuary Record

EPHRAIM N. HERSHEY

Ephraim N. Hershey, eighty-nine, died at 9:30 p.m. Friday at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hershey, Marietta R1, after a three years' illness. A retired farmer, he was born in East Donegal Twp., a son of the late Jacob G. and Mary Nissley Hershey. He was a member of the Cross-Roads Brethren in Christ Church.

His wife, the former Annie Engle, died in November, 1954, about three weeks after the couple observed their 62nd wedding anniversary. He is survived by three sons: Engle E., Milburn, N.J.; Harry E., with whom he resides, and Abram E., Paxtang; eight grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren and a brother, Christian N. Hershey, Mount Joy R2.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Nissley Funeral Home with interment in the Cross Road Brethren in Christ cemetery.
