Rev. Kermit L. Lawton of Harrisburg, division of Evangelism of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches, was the speaker Tuesday noon, April 29, at the Mount Joy Rotary Club's luncheon meeting at Hostettlers.

He will head the Christian Teaching Mission, to be held in Mount Joy and Florin in the fall — from October 23 to 30. He discussed the program and outlined briefly how a census of church preferences will be taken and how the teaching mission will broaden the church work. The speaker was introduced by Rev. Lester Kodar.

Landisville - Salunga

By Richard Jones
Correspondent

Mrs. Rita Manderson, Fallson, Md., will be the guest speaker at a special service of the Salunga Church of the Brethren on Sunday, May 4, 7:30 p.m., at the Salunga church. Mrs. Manderson and her husband are the founders of Bethany Acres in the Maryland community, a Christian refuge for women alcoholics. The refuge, free of charge, attempts a conversion from alcoholism through spiritual means rather than medical or psychological cure. The Reverend Norman L. Bowers, pastor of the Salunga church, will be in charge of the service. The public is invited.

Members of the Hempfield high school faculty, their husbands and wives, will hold a dinner-party at the Meadow Hills restaurant, three-night stand. Taking honor in the lead roles were May 5. Planning the spring social event for the faculty group is the social committee of Lola Pratt and Willie of the Landisville school, headed by Mrs. Ruth Marsh, head of the home economics department, and Mrs. Margaret Simmons, business education. Following the dinner, dancing and card-playing will be held.

The Landisville Cub Pack Den 37, was presented with a pack flag last night in a special ceremony at the Landisville Fire Hall. The flag was presented by Mrs. Dorothy Irvin and Mrs. Jane Kissinger of the Ladies Auxiliary, Landisville Post V. F. W. #5995. The auxiliary unit purchased the flag for the club pack with funds raised through a food sale. The young cubs were presented awards in other areas of achievement and were shown a film on Safety first. Attending the presentation ceremonies were Kenneth Wise, cubmaster; Earl Walters, chairman of the planning committee; Robert Simon, treasurer; Robert Miller, assistant cub master; Franklin Kissinger, assistant in charge of the Webelos den, and Richard Shatzberger, Boy Scout master of the Landisville.

An estimated 1900 persons attended the Hempfield high school music departments' spring musical, "Seventeen" last Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at the Landisville school auditorium. The musical comedy, based on the novel of the same name by Booth Tarkington, met with success as indicated by the top performances of the student actors and songsters and the warm response of the audience during the three-night stand. Taking honor in the lead roles were Sylvia Eshleman and Ray Oberholzer, playing the role of Lola Pratt and Willie of the Landisville school, headed by Mrs. Ruth Marsh, head of the home economics department, and Mrs. Margaret Simmons, business education. Other supporting cast members were Donald Forney, Robert Ridder, Elaine Earhart, Robert Eby, Richard Hollinger and John Denlinger.

Pianist was Miss Mary Nolt, member of the senior class, with musical assistance by a 22-piece orchestra. The play was directed by Richard L. Kline of the Hempfield music department.

Fourteen members of the Future Nurses club of Hempfield high school toured the State Hospital for Crippled Children, Elizabethtown, last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Isabelle N. Rove, Hempfield Joint School District nurse and adviser to the student organization, accompanied the group. The Hempfield Future Nurses Club last week presented a pair of special glasses to a 15-year old boy in the Lancaster General Hospital last week. The youth, Thomas Lewis,

SINCE 1955

Ike Asks Cuts, But Welfare Rises 34%

In a year when the President has asked that non-essential expenditures be cut, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is asking for 34% more than it spent in 1955.

The $2.8 billion budget for HEW is now being considered by the House Appropriations Committee.

How has the HEW budget grown?

3 Times As Much
Its Office of Education is asking for almost three times the amount it received in 1955. In this $302,201,000 outlay are such programs as vocational education, grants for rural libraries, school construction, and payments to school districts.

The Public Health Service of HEW would like $269,952,000 in 1959, an increase of 107% over the last 4 years. It's asking more for sanitary engineering, hospital care and medical research.

The Social Security Administration wants 26% more than it received in 1955 but its budget of $1,852,417,000 is well over half the HEW total. Its major increase is in public assistance grants; increased salaries and expenses make up the rest.

It costs $1,600,000 more to operate the Office of the Secretary of HEW since 1955.

Parkinson's Law?
Speaking of salaries, in the four years since 1955, HEW's payroll has gone from $166,922,000 to an estimated $248,243,700. The number of employees increased over the four years by 11,205 to a total of 53,636. The increased salaries account for about one-tenth of HEW's budget increase over the last four years.

HOW TO FIND THE SECRET PLACE OF SAFETY

A bombing raid was on. An ignorant Chinese woman stood at a railroad station as the raid began. Suddenly she raised her oil-paper umbrella and began to scream, "I am God's child, so I can't be hurt! Whoever gets under my umbrella with me will be safe!"

That Chinese woman had recently been converted to Christianity. A missionary had taught her that she was God's child and that He would take care of her.

Four helpless ones crowded under the umbrella with God's child. When the raid was over, only these five stood alive amid the shambles. Under the shadow of the Almighty they had found their refuge.

There is a circle of protection for those who trust Him. This was known even to the men of the Old Testament, for David the Psalmist wrote, "A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come nigh thee." Daniel in the lions' den, and others, were conscious of protection. They felt it. They knew it, for they had learned to abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

How can one set in motion this marvelous protective force? First, he still and know that He is God. He has all power, and if He wished, this little world would roll up like a scroll. And He could easily make another one at the same moment.

Also, know that He is love and that He has made us of Himself and for Himself. The Bible tells us that He breathed a part of Himself into a lump of dirt and man became a living soul. You are a son of God. The wonderful privileges that such a relationship guarantees is yours.

And then we must pray for others. We cannot desire the love of Christ for ourselves while Chinese, Japanese, Greeks and Germans cry alone in the night from pain or hunger. They are all children of God. And as a mother goes first to the bedside of a child who needs her most, so we should send our prayers out in love to our own brethren.

What happens we send the love of Christ through our prayers to others who are also His children? I cannot tell you all the results. But there is a certain result that becomes immediately perceptible, for as we pray for all the world in His name, we know of a certainty that He is God. And there is an assurance within us that His love breathes over jungle and desert, the seas and the whole earth.

Then we come to know that we rest under the shadow of His wing. Yes, through praying for and ministering to His suffering children all over the world, we invite Him into ourselves and thus direct His power through us. This is our protection.

A certain missionary traveled alone among cannibal tribes. Years later he converted the chief of those tribes. The chief asked him this question, "Who were those two shining ones who walked on either side of you?" Then the missionary was sure that God had protected him with guardian angels.

F&M Professor Addresses Club
Robert Eshleman, Mount Joy R. D., was the guest speaker at the Monday night meeting of the local Business and Professional Women's Club at Hostettlers. Mr. Eshleman, who is associate professor at Franklin and Marshall College, discussed mental health. The program was arranged by the Health and Safety committee with chairman Mrs. Robert Hoffmaster and National Security committee with chairman Mrs. Frank Young, Sr. Geo. Broske, Jr. played several piano solos. Miss Loretta Hornafius, girl of the month of Donegal high school, who was selected by the faculty of the school, was a guest for the evening.

Mrs. Lester Roberts was elected president for the coming year; Mrs. Gene Eichlerly, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Keller, second vice president; Mrs. Jay Meckley, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Ryman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alex Mitzkavitz, treasurer; and Miss Alice Marie Nissley, parliamentarian.

JOINS AT DICKINSON
Barbara Jo Thome, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe M. Thome, of 61 Marietta Avenue, Mt. Joy, has joined Sue Generis, a social organization for women at Dickinson College.

Miss Thome is a freshman at Dickinson and a 1957 graduate of Donegal high school, where she served as Student Senate secretary, was a member of the National Honor Society, and winner of the Valedictory Award.

George Williams, founder of the YMCA, was knighted by Queen Victoria.
