$150 MILLION

Ike Asks Phone Tax Transfer to States

Despite some Congressional opposition, President Eisenhower is moving ahead on his proposal to return functions and activities now performed by the Federal Government to the state or local governments.

The President has proposed to Congress that the Federal Government relinquish 150 million in telephone taxes to state governments in order that they can assume programs which are now conducted by Federal agencies.

One proposal calls for the discontinuance of Federal grants for vocational education now costing $50 million a year. A second would discontinue construction grants for waste treatment facilities which are now costing $50 million a year.

And the third would reduce the 10% Federal tax on local telephone service 6%
