Seed Packages Must Say 1960
HARRISBURG. — A warning to seed retailers was issued by the State Department of Agriculture recently. "Seed packages being offered for sale this year must, for the first time, bear a statement such as 'Packed for 1960' or the percentage of germination and the month and year in which the germination test was made," Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry, said today. "This regulation applies to all seed packets for home use garden as well as for agriculture seeds," Dr. Guyton explained. "Packages containing seed treated with a pesticide must be marked as follows: 'Treated seed. Do not use for food feed or oil purposes.'" Dr. Guyton said. "In the case of poisonous pesticides or any poisonous material the label must bear a skull and cross bones and the word 'poison.'" The germination provisions were added to the state seed laws because seed loss as it now to germinate when stored for long periods under various conditions of temperature and humidity. Thus old seed can be practically dead without this being apparent from external observation. Much field and garden seed is now pre-treated against diseases, fungi and molds which are found in the soil.

ELECTRICITY

IS YOUR CAREFREE WAY TO COOK!

FLAMELESS

Electric heat is constant heat—no flickering flames—no burners to clog up. And—electric controls assure you accurate, measured heat so that your food is done when you expect it to be done.

COOLER

Only an electric oven has the six-side insulation that keeps heat in the oven, not in the kitchen. Surface units are designed to cook the food, not the cook. Thus, you and your kitchen stay cooler when you cook electrically.

AUTOMATIC

Old-fashioned "oven peeking" is gone forever electrically — you just set the oven controls and complete meals cook to tasty perfection while you relax.

CLEANER

Flameless electricity just can't make dirt! Everything in your kitchen stays cleaner when you cook electrically—curtains stay crisp and fresh, walls stay clean, pots and pans stay sparkling bright.

He Asks Removal of Ceiling

President Eisenhower served vigorous notice, in his State-of-the-Union message, that he intends to press his campaign for congressional action removing the 4 1/2 per cent interest rate ceiling on long-term government bonds.

Failure of the 1959 session of Congress to remove the ceiling is regarded by Mr. Eisenhower as "one of the most serious things that has happened to the United States in my time."

In his State-of-the-Union message, he asserted that the Treasury's ability to manage the huge $290 billion public debt has been "weakened greatly" by what he described as the unwillingness of Congress to remove "archaic restrictions."

President Eisenhower told Congress that "removal of this roadblock has high priority" in his legislative recommendations. A prolonged battle definitely is indicated.

INSPECT WIRING

An electrical wiring system is no better than its poorest part, declares Joseph McCurdy, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. He urges periodic inspections of wiring extensions and the original system by a qualified person.
