

Street Contractor Gives Rotary Many Answers

First-hand information from the man who knows more of the answers than any other man concerning the rebuilding of Main street were given Mount Joy Rotarians on Tuesday noon.

At their weekly luncheon meeting, held at Hostetter's, the club members and guests heard Jake D. Eckman, of Atglen discuss the plans for constructing the street.

As the contractor of the job, he graciously answered any and all questions handed him in a full half-hour of informal discussion.

Eckman said that it is impossible to say exactly in what order the necessary work will be done because unanticipated factors enter into the picture almost constantly.

For instance, he said that this week it suddenly became necessary to revise the underground drainage system to handle a couple of unforeseeable problems.

Now, he said, Main street will have one of the finest possible drainage systems with all water from the intersection of Main and New Haven eastward draining under the full length of the project toward the east.

When the project would be completely finished he could not say but did indicate that by time bad weather closes in this fall he expects "to be out of the mud."

By that, he meant that there at least will be concrete pavement which can be used by all traffic and that the western section of the job may not even be started this fall.

He said that the type of concrete to be used to cover the concrete is the finest possible and that it has many advantages, especially in a business area. He mentioned such things as less noise, easier to repair, etc.

Responding to questions, he indicated that there have been problems with utilities but indicated that they have been fewer than on most street construction on sites.

Presently, he said, the aim is to have concrete laid in the area between Barbara Street and Marietta street soon enough that it can cure (about a week) and be ready for use as soon as the Pennsylvania railroad finishes its rebuilding of the Marietta street bridge.

Thus, the detour arrangements can be shifted to use the bridge instead of the not-too-satisfactory Barbara street crossing.

Eckman, himself an active Rotarian and former president of his home club at Atglen, has been in the contracting business, "man and boy" for nearly 40 years and now has two sons associated with him in the construction work—one as a foreman and the younger a senior in engineering school.

The contractor without hesitation answered any of all questions including prices of the big machines, cost of tires and hour wage rate of the operators.

The program was arranged and the speaker introduced by Richard A. Rainbolt.

Plan Electric Interruption Sunday on Main Street

Four areas in Mount Joy along Main street are slated for electric power interruptions on Sunday, August 26, while workmen make line changes necessary to the rebuilding of Main street.

A spokesman for the Pennsylvania Power and Light company said this week that in as far as possible all electric users in the area are being notified of the interruption schedule, including churches in the area.

Extra crews of the P. P. & L. will be working along Main street to reset poles, change over wires and do other vital work necessitated by the street building program.

Already several poles have been set and made ready for the Sunday work.

A PP&L official said that the areas along Main street will be shut off between 3 and 3 1/2 hours according to the following schedule:

West of Krall's store to the Mount Joy Diner - 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.
E.U.B. Church to Stehman and Herr service station - 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.
High street to west of the Masonic Temple - 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.
From east end of Main street to High street - 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

In addition, there will be a few circuits adjacent to Main street which are served from the four above mentioned circuits which also will be out of service.

Sunday was picked for the "out-of-service" period to cause the least inconvenience possible for all customers concerned.

In case of rain, the work will be done the next Sunday - September 2.

Remove Parking Meters

Mount Joy's parking meters have been removed.

If the above sentence had been written any time within the past five years except now, it would have been hailed with considerable rejoicing by many people of the community.

However, as it turns out, the true statement that the meters have been removed means very little, actually.

Meters in the Mount Joy business section have been taken off their posts and stored in the borough park building for the "duration" of the duration of the street rebuilding program.

Borough officials felt that during the construction period the meters would be subject to more hazard of damage than they would collect money — even on the side streets.

Borough police and the supervisor and his crew did the removal job.

Union School Maps Safety Suggestions

Donegal Union school authorities have been working with the Pennsylvania Dept. of Highways, the Mount Joy Boro Council and the East Donegal Twp. Supervisors to provide for the safety of pupils who walk to the Seiler and Washington Elementary schools.

The reconstruction of Main Street in Mount Joy and the resulting detour have created traffic hazards at several schools, the school recognizes.

The following decisions and recommendations are presented to provide additional protection. The cooperation of parents and pupils is requested.

The Borough will provide police protection at the following street corners:
1. Main and Barbara Sts.
2. Columbia Avenue and S. Barbara Streets.
3. Columbia Avenue and Delta Street.
4. S. Market Street and Marietta Avenue.

Parents are asked to cooperate by having their children observe the following:

1. All pupils living north of Main street will cross Main street at Barbara street and proceed on the east side of Barbara street to the school.
2. Pupils who live south of Main Street and must cross the heavy traffic due to the detour should cross only at one of the corners protected by the police.

It is recommended that no bicycle be ridden to school until Main street is reopened to traffic.

Washington elementary The state highway Department has erected traffic signs along Angle street, cross walks have been painted where pupils cross Angle Street and sidewalk lines painted on the west side of Angle street from Main street to the rear entrance of the school.

It is planned to have additional protection during the times children are going to and from the school. Plans call for police at each crosswalk from 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m.—11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Additional caution signs with amber lights set for the same hours will be installed as soon as possible.

Parents are asked to see that pupils who must use the bridge and cross walks on Angle street do so during the time the lights are on and police are on duty.

It is also recommended that no bicycles be ridden to school if pupils must use or cross Angle street.

Donegal High School It is recommended that pupils use regular school bus transportation when possible and drive to school only in case of necessity or emergency.

Donegal Schools will be open for classes September 4. Pupils will report to their respective buildings on this date. Classes will remain in session all day with afternoon dismissal for the first week at 3:00 p.m. for the week at 3:00 p.m. (Turn to page 4)

Florin Numbers All Assigned

Approximately 440 mail deliveries in Florin have been listed by the Lions Club and have been turned over to the postal service.

The listings and survey made by the Florin club is made with an eye to the future and with a possibility that door-to-door mail delivery service can be provided for patrons of the post office in that area.

Jay Snyder, Florin Lions club survey chairman said this week that all "door numbers" have been assigned and turned over to the post office.

In addition, 90 per cent of the people have been contacted by representatives of the club in an effort to sell numbers which may be attached to the doors for identification.

A push to the project is to be given next Monday night at the club's regular meeting. The 440 number represents the number of houses and apartments within the Florin area which has been surveyed. Thus, there would theoretically be about that number of families available for mail delivery service.

The area covered in a general way is approximately that which is now being considered for annexation to the borough of Mount Joy. Roughly it includes the area between Donegal Springs road and Bruce avenue and between the west end of Wood and Main streets to Orchard road.

While there has been no word from the postal department as to what will be done, there has been a survey of the area and it is indicated that one carrier could serve the territory with very little extra working time added to the Florin post office working time.

The next move toward delivery is in the hands of the postal service.

The Lions, in the meantime, feel that the community has had a valuable service. (Turn to page 3)

Boom Runs Wild, Rams Building

A huge crane being used by workmen at the site of the rebuilding of the Marietta street railroad bridge ran out of control one day last week and did damage to a nearby building owned by the Church of God.

The crane, used for lifting steel and beams used on the job suddenly stalled its motor, lost its braking power and rolled down an incline.

The operator made two different attempts to stop the vehicle, but was unsuccessful. It crashed into a frame building, being used by the Joy Motors (formerly Eli Ament) and crashed in a portion of the wall.

There was no damage to the crane — called a "boom" — and none to the contents of the building although a '30 DeSoto car stood within a few feet of where the boom came to rest.

Railroad carpenters repaired the building early this week.

Putters To Top Tourney Golfers

An assortment of putters will be given as prizes Sunday, August 26, when the Mount Joy Junior Chamber of Commerce stages its tenth annual golf tourney.

To be played over the Cool Creek course at Wrightsville, the tourney is open to golfers of the community. Tee-off time is from 12 noon until 2 p.m.

Gerald Hostetter, tourney manager, said this week that he has six putters ready as prizes.

Of various designs, they will be handed out to golfers in two divisions of play —handicap and low gross scores.

Another prize will go to the tourney player who drives the nearest to the pin on the 14th hole.

A drop hole off a high tee, over woods and the creek, the hole is only 141 yards and is almost as straight down as it is away from the tee.

It is the same hole which a golfer recent scored a hole-in-one on his third drive.

Hostetter said that he has a pitching wedge as prize for the golfer who has the best drive on the hole.

Registration Of Voters Light

Voter registration in Mount Joy borough was light Wednesday as special registration officers sat at the Friendship Fire company social room.

The two deputies had signed only 17 people at 5 p.m. They were scheduled to remain on the job until 9 p.m. however. They anticipated that they might finally total as many as 25 or 30 people.

While there has been no word from the postal department as to what will be done, there has been a survey of the area and it is indicated that one carrier could serve the territory with very little extra working time added to the Florin post office working time.

Education Loan Plan Arranged

A "higher education loan" plan has been inaugurated this week by the Union National Mount Joy bank for college students who have completed their freshman year. Boys and girls will be able to borrow up to $1,000 for three years on their own signatures with repayments to commence five months after graduation.

The loans are available through the United Student Aid Funds, Inc., of Indianapolis, which provides the necessary guaranty so that the bank legally may provide the money.

Endorsed by the Pennsylvania Bankers association and the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, the loan plan is available to students of all accredited or approved higher education institutions, including nursing schools, medical schools and business schools, as well as colleges and universities.

rectory is to be distributed in October. Instead of showing OLDFIELD, HAZEL, EMPIRE, etc., numbers will be indicated by seven figures.

Thus, Oldfield will be 65, Hazel will be 42, Empire will show as 36, etc. Manheim already has become known as 66. The pair of sixes replaced the former MO, which stood for Mohawk.

And, so it goes—Numbers replacing names all along the line. Quickly we think of banking, income taxes, reports to government, credit cards. Men in prison traditionally have been relegated to identification by number rather than by name. Railroad box cars the same way.

'Of This and That' - - by the editor's wife

About three years ago we wrote a story about the hobby of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kolp, who live on Chocolate avenue in Florin—collecting pencils. They had more than 1200 at that time, of every description. We talked to her a few weeks ago and she reported that their collection has now almost doubled — they have 2300 pencils!

"The most rewarding part of a hobby such as ours is meeting nice people who take time out of their busy life to be helpful," Mrs. Kolp said, in speaking of the kindness of people who have sent or given them pencils, knowing of their hobby.

"The latest was a woman in Holland, Mich. When we were there on vacation I bought a Dutch boy and girl head made from felt that a civic group was selling at the Tulip festival. I happened to mention that I was a pencil collector and she asked if we had a H. J. Heinz company pencil—the factory is in their city. This week we received two pencils from her."

The construction work on Main street has its compensations for at least one resident of Mount Joy! A young lady was commuting each morning to classes at Elizabethtown college, and caught the bus on Main street. Then came the detour! Now the bus goes right by her door, and stops at the end of her driveway to pick her up each morning and return her home!

More of the armchair traveling: Mr. and Mrs. John Zeller and sons, Gary, Terry and Brent, Pinkerton Road, Making almost the same trip, but earlier in the summer, were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Germer, west Main street, their daughter, Mrs. Vivian Brown, and sons James and John. They visited the Worlds Fair, many national parks, and dozens of points of interest en route.

Their trip coincided in time with that of the Walter Sloan family, and they kept thinking perhaps they would see the Mount Joy people at one of the tourist attractions. They never did, but in Las Vegas a woman they met said, "I believe you are from the East—it's the way you talk." When they replied in the affirmative and said they were from Mount Joy, Pa., the woman told them that she had grown up in Ephrata.
