Main Street would like to pause to mention two men named Frank who passed away recently.

Frank Tyndall was a very special kind of person. And it should be mentioned that for several years he offered a very special kind of award to youngsters.

It was his custom to recognize youngsters who displayed courtesy. In the first place Frank liked youngsters. He believed in them and wanted them to learn the basic characteristics which are important in adult life. One of those important ingredients of adulthood is courtesy. And Frank was willing to recognize it in the hope that recognition in one youngster would stimulate that virtue in others.

Frank Young for many years was "a man heard" but seldom seen. Although handicapped, Frank played a very important part in the community. With his telephone and his radio, he was a communications center which served the community for emergency work—calling people to duty of various kinds, including doctors, fire, police, balky furnaces, etc., etc.

We asked one young man of the community, "Did you know Frank Young?" "No," he answered, "But I talked with him many times." As a vital link in the communications system for fire equipment, Frank was important to Mount Joy.

Monday, March 26, is the last day to register before the primary election. Registrations are made in the Lancaster county courthouse.

Thanks, Jack!
Here is a check list of some of the things which are needed to make an attractive community—a community attractive to outsiders as well as those who live there. Residential homes and yards kept clean, neat and trim?

All streets paved and sidewalks in good shape? Shade trees line nearly all of the streets?
Town entrances free from junk, shacks and billboards? Business section have modern, prosperous look?

Adequate control of dust, smoke and odor?
Easy to find parking space in business section?
A recreation center for young people?
Annual clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign?
Stamps, markers, etc. well kept?

Streets attractively lighted?
Roadsides clean, mowed and beautified?
Program to eliminate the "litterbug"?
A place to swim within easy access?
A library or bookmobile with a collection of recent books?

A hotel or motel you would enjoy if you were a visitor?
Schools have ample room for students?
Fire protection ample?
Sewer extension program keeping pace with new housing?

Public toilets provided for non-residents in town?
Satisfactory police protection?
A modern hospital within reading area?
Good zoning keeps factories away from residential areas?

Ample housing?
Parks and other recreation facilities available?
These are some of the questions asked when the outside looks at the community, as compiled by a recent study of the Pennsylvania Power and Light company in its program of "planning for economic prosperity."

As Of Now - George McCue Is Holdout From Tigertown

How long is a man a "holdout?" Especially, that is a question when there seems to be a distinct possibility that he will not sign?

We're speaking of George McCue, Mount Joy professional baseball player who belongs to the Detroit Tiger outfit.

After several years in organized baseball, George has not yet signed a 1962 contract and while the Tigers are working at Tigertown, George remains in Mount Joy and works at Manheim.

The former Mount Joy high school star and the Tiger management have both mentioned their own terms, but at mid-week there appeared no meeting of the minds.

Of course, this—or something similar—has happened in other years and George finally has signed.

But, there seems to be a good chance that George may not come to terms in the same way for 1962.

Thus, with the baseball opening about a month away, the question does arise—how long can McCue be a holdout?

Church owned property, used for church purposes will not be taxed by the Donegal Union school district.

Official action to definitely establish that policy was taken at the school board's meeting held Thursday night, March 15, at Donegal high school.

The action definitely listed church buildings, church school buildings and living quarters of the pastors. All other property held by religious groups is subject to taxes for school purposes.

However, exoneration is not automatic. Routine requests for exoneration from payment of taxes must be taken.

In other action, the school board voted to set the minimum beginning salary for teachers at $4,200 per year, which is $200 more than '61-'62.

All salaries will be raised $200, but this total amount will not all be paid in 1962-'63. Teachers who are not already on schedule will be given $100 per year in addition to the mandated increments until they are on schedule.

Maximum salaries in all categories are raised $200, making the maximum $6,900. A letter of commendation was ordered issued to Marshall Gemberling, Donegal high school athletic director, citing the improvement record of wrestling and basketball teams during the past season.

A request to pay school taxes on the old assessment of $2,500 instead of the new re-evaluated assessment of $5,800 was denied the Mount Joy Sportsmen association.

It was suggested that the matter be taken to the reassessment adjustment board.

Two former Mt. Joy residents, now living in Phoenixville, Pa. are now on a round-the-world tour and have been spending some time in Hong Kong.

They are Mrs. J. Statter Kuhn and her daughter, Loraine, who lived in the residence now owned by Martin Johnson on Donegal Springs road.

Mrs. Kuhn and daughter recently wrote to Mount Joy friends and enclosed a copy of the Hong Kong "Tourist Journal," which is issued daily. The Saturday, Feb. 3, issue carried a picture of the Kuhns, taken while they were dining at a Hong Kong restaurant.

The late J. Statter Kuhn was a letter carrier in the west ward.

ENDS COURSE

Two Lancaster county men last week completed the artificial breeding technician's training course at Pennsylvania State University.

They are: Charles Alexander, Mount Joy R1, and Donald L. Groff, Quarryville R1.

The 1-day course, offered by the College of Agriculture, is designed specifically to train technicians in the artificial breeding program.

Omar Groff Wonders About Mystery Of Unlucky 13th

"Haste makes waste," and is there really something unlucky about the 13th? Those two thoughts no doubt went through Omar Groff's mind last Tuesday night!

Pinch hitting for his boss, Martin Musser, Omar attended the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at Hostetter's. But he also was obligated to attend the Florin Fire company meeting later in the evening so, after the dinner he grabbed his overcoat and left.

But—someone had left earlier than he, and had taken Omar's overcoat (with car keys in the pocket) by mistake! Frantically, Omar asked a friend of his to take him home for a second set of car keys, but in his haste, he slammed the car door on his thumb, mashing it badly at the base of the nail!

Consequently, he missed the Fire Company meeting, had a visit to the doctor to get the painful thumb cared for, and then about midnight was roused out of bed by Frank Germer, who had left the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting early to meet his wife in Hershey, had eventually discovered that he had the wrong overcoat, and had hurried back to town to return it to its rightful owner!

The beautiful bronze plaque which now hangs on a sign along the Marietta street side of the property, will become a part of the new monument.

The fund from which the project will be financed is the War Memorial Fund, of about $4,000.

This amount is an accumulation of money from several sources which had been placed in the hands of a local committee.

First money came from a World War II "salvage" project. Another contribution came from the remainder of funds from the "Remembrance" committee which paid honor and gave gifts to men as they left for war and on their return.

Still more money came from the recent 1951 Mount Joy Centennial. Funds left after that project were turned over to the war memorial group.

To facilitate and to speed all necessary under-ground installations, the Borough Authority at its March meeting decided to "push ahead and to dig in all lines between Barbara street and the old cotton mill.

The work is being done by Jay Meckley.

To facilitate and to speed all necessary under-ground installations, the Borough Authority at its March meeting decided to "push ahead and to dig in all lines between Barbara street and the old cotton mill.

Thus, they reason, when actual street construction time arrives, detours are necessary and other factors are important to prevent overlapping of work, the water lines will be out of the way.

Installation of lines west of Barbara street will be done while the street contractor is working and a detour diverting traffic.

By Wednesday of this week, only four more new lines were needed on the north side of Main street east of Barbara. When those are completed, lines on the south side of the street will be installed.

All work in that area is being done under "one-way" traffic conditions.

Lions Ready To Offer Notes For Community Swimming Pool

Sale of notes to finance the Mount Joy Community swimming pool is slated to begin this weekend, it was announced by trustees of the project.

As outlined this week when 500 bonds, at a sale price of $100 each, are sold and actually signed, the contract for building the pool will be signed.

Note holders are to be guaranteed preferential memberships. As a note holder, family season tickets may be purchased for $25.

Normal family membership rates will be considerably more. It was pointed out that within a few, short years the note holder will save the price of his note.

Note applications will be available on Saturday, March 24th, and will be sold by all members of the Mount Joy Lions club. Also, note applications will be available at the Richard Latchford service station on west Main street.

The note sales committee includes: Charles Hershey, Ph. OL 3-6111; David Rosser, OL 3-6811; Robert Sherk, OL 3-8045, and James Klinedinst OL 3-3165.

Actual, outright donations will be tax deductible, the committee points out. The pool is to be built on a tract of about seven acres, located north of Main street, across the Pennsylvania spur track across from the Gerberich-Payne shoe factory. The land has been optioned by the Lions club from Charles Frank.

Three Mount Joy people were recovering this week from bruises and shock suffered last week when the cars in which they were riding collided at the intersection of New Haven and Donegal streets.

He was named at a re-organization meeting of the board of directors, held last week.

He succeeds G. Walter Sloan, who has served during the past year.

Snyder, a Mount Joy insurance man, thus becomes the first man in the community to be president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and then of the Chamber of Commerce.

Last year Snyder was vice-president of the C. of C. Also, the new president has been a conscientious, hard-working member of his patriotic and fraternal organizations and church.

Other officers named by the Chamber last week include: Earl Koser, first vice-president; Richard Latchford, second vice-president, and Simon Nissley, treasurer. Richard A. Rainbolt will serve as temporary secretary.

The next meeting will be held Monday night, April 2, in the Donegal high school band room.

Push Plans For Improving Park With Monument and Benches

With an eye firmly fixed on May 30 the target date for dedication of the new War Memorial monument, the Community Council's War Memorial committee is pushing plans for action.

The committee was slated to hold a session Thursday night with a landscaper to formalize plans for planting of perennials and shrubs.

Too, artists sketches are being made for design of the monument itself.

Members of the Memorial Park committee, of which Gerald Sheetz and Charles Chunko are co-chairmen, are working on a budget of approximately $3,500 for this particular project.

The War Memorial Park reclaiming project, which began with leveling and seeding the old grade school plot, has been "fattened" with several gifts, including a $1,000 lump sum from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The monument portion of the total project will include not only a monument but landscaping, benches, a flag pole, etc.

The beautiful bronze plaque which now hangs on a sign along the Marietta street side of the property, will become a part of the new monument.
