

Recognize Signs Of Poor Wiring

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's 1963-64 Chicken Random Sample Test is under way. A total of 10,575 eggs were set in incubators on Thursday (April 4) and the hatchling date of April 26.

The eggs were from 47 enterprises, 27 of them from Pennsylvania breeders and hatcheries.

E. J. Lawless, Jr., chief of the egg and poultry division in the department's Bureau of Markets, said 45 different strains and varieties are represented in the test and that 2,914 chicks will be chosen for the test. The chicks will be sexed, graded and banded and randomized before moving into their growing quarters.
