The Mount Joy

BULLETIN

SIXTY-THIRD YEAR, NO. 7 MOUNT JOY, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1963 SEVEN CENTS PER COPY

If you think that Mount Joy is "dead" a "ghost town" and if you so say, consider just a few things—

For instance, at the east edge of the borough a wonderful new industrial plant is being erected by a "blue-ribbon" firm which is spending thousands and thousands—yes, millions and millions—of dollars.

Not only is an "outside" organization coming to Mount Joy to be an "insider," but many of the forward-looking businesses which are long-established here are expanding and growing.

It's dangerous to mention a few for inevitably we fail to mention some others.

But, within the past few days the Union National Mount Joy bank has announced plans to erect a beautiful, new addition. There has been no announcement of the amount of capital which will be invested, but a casual reading of the released statement indicates something pretty big and mighty nice. That reflects faith in Mount Joy area.

New Standard is another organization which recently has put a lot into the Mount Joy business, expanding and improving, reflecting faith and expectancy based on past experience.

SICO, too, has erected a new warehouse on Main street within the past few months, again representing growth and a forward look.

It has not been many months since one of the biggest buildings Mount Joy has seen built in many years as constructed on Ice street Lancaster Leaf. The huge warehouse was erected on a plot which until work began was a deep ditch. The huge building was not erected on a idle whim. Management sees a future and is willing to look forward.

A few weeks ago we did mention the spacious new aerarium at Litho Craft, here expanding business and an increased tempo of work has made necessary a growth in floor space to handle the huge skids of paper—both waiting for the presses and work already processed.

The matter of empty business rooms is mentioned in Mount Joy. It's true, there are empty rooms, and those interested in the community should see such things.

But, if you have been in her communities and have seen critical looks at them, you see the same thing.

Before speaking a disparaging word about Mount Joy, honest and face the fact that these are changing times. MAIN STREET and the pattern and American merchandising is changing, too. Things just are not the same these days.

And—after noticing these things the past few months—we'd like to say that the way Mount Joy theatre has been regarded up is to be commended.

We're not saying we're mad to see the theatre dark. At, if it must be closed and boarded, at least the ownership used new plywood sheets and the job was done in a workmanship-like manner.

A couple of weeks ago, while driving through Ohio one of the nation's big highways, we noticed a moving board which was closed and boarded with old, rough, old-length lumber, in a hit and miss manner which added insult to injury to the appearance of the town.

Somewhat on the same subject—another item of similar nature worth comment. Outside the wonderful Lancaster County—Pennsylvania Dutch section, the appearance around a drive-in estab-

The street work scheduled for 1963 is part of a continuing program which has taken giant steps toward giving Mt. Joy first class streets. The past six years the program has been double important as related to sewer installation.

UGI Begins Building Gas Line To Site Of New Industrial Plant

Laying of a new, 14,000-foot, high-pressure gas main to service the new plant of National-Standard began this week.

The six-inch main originates at the regulator plant on East Main street. It will lie along the south side of the old Pennsylvania railroad tracks to Hopewell street, follow along the north side of the street and cross Manheim street.

There the line will turn northward along the east side and continue all the way to Lefever road. At that point a "stub" for use when and if needed in the future, will cross Lefever, but the main will then run southward along the west side of the roadway. It will continue to Road 230, where another "stub" will be installed, heading west. However, the main will cross Lefever and lie along the north side of the state highway to a point about in front of Mrs. Thom's fruit stand.

At a spot opposite the National-Standard site, a six-inch "T" will be installed and a line laid across the highway to the plant. How long it will take to lay the entire line is not known. Such factors as the amount of rock which will be encountered will greatly influence the time.

An adequate and reliable source of high-pressure gas is necessary to the wire manufacturers' operation. Although there are low-pressure mains near the site, the two types of systems are not compatible and the new main must be installed before National-Standard can get into production.

Barn Destroyed By Fire

A small barn on the property of Samuel P. Lehman in Milton Grove, was destroyed by flames Monday night, July 15.

Loss was estimated at $2,200. The fire was discovered about 11:30 p.m. by a tenant, Earl Haldeman, who summoned Rheems firemen, Elizabethtown and Mount Joy firemen also answered the alarm.

Assistant Chief Max Rice, Rheems, said hay, chickens, straw, and five pet Easter rabbits inside the barn were also destroyed.

Stock And Cash Sold

Stocks and money were offered to collectors and went for a premium of $1,099.

Buyers and bidders appeared from New York. Some of the money, with face value of $1,719, was sold to buyers who were interested for sentimental reasons.

Other bills, bearing special dates and special inscriptions of interest, went to collectors and speculators.

A four-man corps (actually three men and a woman) are operating the Mount Joy emergency radio system and the Zone 7 Fire radio base station.

Walter Gipe, who handles such matters from his mobile home located on Apple Tree alley just west of the fire hall, has gone to St. Joseph's hospital for check ups and for examinations.

His round the clock vigil of the local emergency system is being handled by Mrs. Frank Young during the morning.

In addition, several members of the fire company are taking turns manning the radios during other odd hours and on weekends.

Gipe, who is permanently situated in his comfortable trailer home, is having several teeth extracted and a general checkup. He is a double amputee.

Discusses Bible Reading

"Bible Reading in the Public Schools," was the subject of a thoughtful and enlightening address by the Rev. David Wolfe, pastor of the Trinity E. C. church, to Mt. Joy Rotarians Tuesday noon.

The luncheon meeting was held at Hostetters. Rev. Wolfe, who also doubles as a school teacher, presented some of the background of the historic decision on June 17, by the Supreme Court, banning Bible reading and the Lord's Prayer from the class rooms.

The matter, he said, has been shadowed by the race problems now being experienced in the nation, but he felt that the Bible-reading case is more important.

He quoted from the majority and minority decisions of the courts and gave the feelings of various church and state leaders on the matter. He pointed out that already—based on the recent decision—steps are being taken to question tax exemptions of church properties.

The motto on money "In God We Trust," references to God in the national anthem, mention of God in the pledge of allegiance, chaplains in the army, invocations at meetings of legislative bodies, etc.

The speaker was introduced by Program Chairman John G. Hart.

ON VACATION

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Ulrich are on a vacation trip to Ireland, Scotland and to the Scandinavian countries. They went to Europe via plane but will return by ship.

Two crews are working on the installation. One began at the regulator plant and the other began at the corner of the Manheim road and is working along Lefever road toward Route 230.

In the meantime, other facilities are being made available to the plant site.

The Pennsylvania Power & Light company already has installed two necessary sets of electrical power.

One was brought to the site from the front—along Highway 230 while a much larger capacity line was installed from the south side of the property.

These facilities are now in place, completed, as one company official explained, "Under the personal watchfulness of the company president himself."

Water and sewer lines remain to be installed by the Mount Joy Borough Authority.

The sewer will be provided by an extension eastward of an already existing line which terminates at Newcomer road.

A new, 12-inch water main is scheduled to tap onto the borough system and to be carried eastward across Little Chiques creek and to the plant site.
