

● 'Miss Manheim'

ert E. Doster in charge of the program.
Miss Wiechers will represent Manheim in the Miss Lancaster pageant to be held in Ephrata late next month.
At present, Miss Wiechers is working at the Manheim Community Swimming Pool where she is an instructor in water ballet. In high school, she was a member of the Glee and Sports clubs and was a varsity cheerleader and majorette. She was Prom Queen during the spring.

Judges for the ninth annual contest were Mrs. Richard K. Weidman (Joan Klein, WGAL-TV), Charles York, National Director of Pennsylvania Jaycees, and James E. Zwally, professor at Millersville State College.

Mathew Brady covered the entire Civil War with fewer photographs that the average church wedding requires today.

An Easy Mark

We have heard it said that a college education sets a man back three or four years. Why speak vaguely of a 'man'? Why not speak frankly, and say 'Father?'

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

by Noah H. Sloan, M. D.
Flaucoma is a disease of the eye caused by increased fluid pressure on the eyeball. The exact cause isn't known. It causes impairment of vision varying from slight to total blindness.

The most common form of glaucoma develops slowly with gradually decreasing vision. While it usually affects one eye first, both eyes eventually are involved in most cases. In another type, the attack is acute and there is rapid loss of sight and severe eye pain.

Glaucoma should be suspected in patients who need frequent change of the lenses of their glasses, who have had mild headaches and occasional fuzzy vision, and who see halos around electric lights. This is particularly true in persons over 40 years old.

Eye specialists today believe that most eye examinations should include a test for eyeball pressure. A qualified doctor can do it quite simple with an instrument called a tonometer. Early discovery of the disease is (Turn to page 11)
