ey. The borough fathers—meaning the Borough Council—retain the meters simply because they collect money.

"The borough needs the money to pay its bills," is the only argument given.

In effect, what is being done is to charge motorists a toll charge for using a public street so that there will be sufficient money in the Presbyterian - Home News -

On Tuesday evening last week we had a delightful time when the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Ulrich of the United Brethren church, showed us pictures of the places they visited this summer. The pictures were beautiful and the information given was most interesting. Some of the countries visited were Ireland, (South and North), Scotland, England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, West Germany, Italy, France and Amsterdam (Netherlands). Then Rev. Ulrich, by pictures, took us on their trip to Palestine in 1960 which included W. Germany, Italy, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Kingdom of Jordan and Israeli. Refreshments were served and all had a happy time of fellowship.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Durno, Lebanon, and Mrs. L. D. Raisley, Butler, visited Miss Mabel Walmer.

Mrs. George S. Mann of Millersville, Mrs. R. Shina-barger, Lancaster, and Mrs. Pyfer Rheems, for Miss Carrie Kaufhold.

Mrs. Irene B. Moore, Dorothy Herr, Fred Geiter and John C. Howett, Lancaster, for Miss Laura Deremer.

The Misses Dorothy Miller and Sarah Hoke, Mrs. Nellie Butts and Mrs. Schaeberle, Mrs. Clara Wallick and daughter Mary, and Ralph Nonemaker of York, for Miss Sarah Emswiler.

Margy and Steve Ramsay, West Chester, for Mrs. Retta Ramsay.

Mr. and Mrs. George Enterline, Harrisburg, for Miss Ethel Henry.

There was an unusual occurrence at the Schock Home on Saturday afternoon when their oldest resident, ninety years, Miss Laura Deremer, attended her first football game and came back and vowed it would not be her last. Her enthusiasm has continued especially from the fact that she was a Lancaster resident.

Miss Pearl Powell spent a week visiting Miss Beth Stearns and Miss Clara Greenwood in Camp Hill.

borough treasury to pay the bills for collecting garbage.

If not for paying the garbage bill, then for mowing grass in the park or for any of the many many expenses necessary to provide borough services.

It looks morally wrong for the Mount Joy Borough to put its hand into the pockets of the motorists for nickles and dimes to finance services which should be paid by everyone.

Is it ethical to ask an out-of-towner who comes into Mount Joy to do business to help pay our own bills?

From a purely moral standpoint, the collection of money under the cloak of parking meters is wrong.

The Borough does not even earmark the funds collected for such logical and automobile-connected items as street improvement, street maintenance, street sweeping, police patrolling or meter maintenance.

The several thousand dollars collected annually simply seep into the general fund and may just as well be spent for repairs to a mowing machine as for repairs to the parking meters.

From a purely logical point of view, if not legal, it would make just as much sense to put a toll gate across Main street and charge every motorist who passes through Mt.

Joy as to ask those who stop to feed a parking meter.

Parking meters in Mount Joy are not parking meters at all. They are only an easy, although unethical, way to raise money.

With all this hubbub about prayer in school, it was interesting to notice one day last week that a piece of mail posted in Lancaster had been cancelled by the post office with these words,

Pray for Peace.

"The congressional news up to this date possesses not the slightest interest. Congress seems determined to fritter away its time, instead of rendering it profitable to the nation—shame on such tardy legislation." Is the foregoing quotation from some recent publication which is fed up with Washington?

Oh, no. It comes from an 1836 copy of the Philadelphia "Public Ledger," which came to the Bulletin editor's desk via Eric Olson, who received it from his sister. The paper, preserved in an old book, was Vol. 1 No. 1, which is newspaper way of saying that it was the first issue of the publication. Doubtless that is the reason it was preserved.

A four-page, hand-set paper, it is priced at one cent per copy.

A paragraph says that four stage lines operated daily between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh but that so busy were the transportation companies that booking needed to be made one to two weeks in advance.

Last Thursday's "hearing" at Hempfield high school concerning the limited access highway plans on Rte. 230 between Little Chiques creek and the Manheim road proved two things.

First thing is that the state intends to make the stretch of highway limited access and that the hearing was a matter only for the record.

We sat through an hour of the proceedings and that was long enough to discover that it made little difference what was said or done at that gathering.

The plan is made and that is that.

One interesting statement was made which we have not seen elsewhere. One of the state men said that is estimated that traffic on Rt. 230 will be 13,700 vehicles daily by 1980.

An automatic traffic counter located at Clearview, between Mount Joy and Elizabethtown, showed a 1959 average daily count of 10,329. In 1955, the figure was 8,798.

Although individuals may feel the sting of making the highway limited access, there seems no doubt but that giving traffic entrance and egress only at certain places will be the best for the most over the longest period of time. And—that, in the last analysis, is the final measuring stick.
