Wild Geese Fly

A visitor to a lovely little lakeside town was delighted to hear what sounded like the honking of wild geese in a slightly ragged "V" formation, beating their way methodically toward the lake.

"But they're heading north. Shouldn't they be going south?" he asked his host, who had followed him in a leisurely way out onto the terrace.

"Well, they go north in the evenings," the native replied. "Mornings they head the other way. You see, these geese stay on the lake all winter. But there's a pond on the golf course over on the other side of town, and every morning the lazy loafers go over and spend the day gorging on the feed the greenskeeper gives them."

Business and Professional Women Hold Meeting

The Business & Professional Women's Club met at Hostetters Monday evening, with Mrs. Ruth Sinegar, president, presiding. Miss Doris Snellinger, District VII Director, of York and Miss Jeanette Espenshade assistant director, of Red Lion were guests of the club.

Mrs. Kathryn Keller, legislation chairman, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Hugh Heller, Lancaster League of Women Voters, was the speaker. A question and answer period was held concerning the State Constitutional Convention. Miss Caroline Blantz was soloist with Mrs. Ethel Broske at the piano.

The Girl of the Month, Nancy Vogle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vogle, Florin Ward, was introduced by Yvonne Koser. Reports of the fall meeting at Allenberry with Red Lion as hostess were given by Mary Sarver, Mildred Way, Ruth Sinegar, Jane Fryberger, Janette Germer and Yvonne Koser.

The B. P. W. will give a Halloween Party for the Day Care Center on Thursday, with Mrs. Theda Young as chairman. The club will be represented in the Halloween parade with a float.

The Thanksgiving Dance will be held Nov. 15, at the Mount Joy Legion Home.

Residents of the borough living in the area recently annexed from East Donegal township will have 30 days to pay their Mount Joy taxes without delinquent penalty, it was announced this week by George Groff, president of Borough Council.

FLORIN WELCOME

The Mount Joy Joycees wish to extend a cordial invitation to all the women in the Florin area to join the organization.

All prospective members must be high school graduates between the ages of 18 through 35. Mrs. Roy Packer may be contacted for further information.

Not only that, but a discount will be granted until November 1, it was said.

Announcement was made by Groff after it was decided by the Lancaster county court that the Borough is entitled to collect 1963 taxes.

When Florin was annexed to the borough, there was an unsettled matter as to whether East Donegal township or Mount Joy Borough would collect.

Both governmental units sent out bills.

Most property owners, however, have withheld payment of either bill and have been holding them until the matter was decided by the courts.

In a decision given last Friday, Judge Joseph B. Wisler said that some 370 residents involved should pay to Dorothy Kipple, Mount Joy tax collector.

Members of the council, conferring with Council said that they would grant a two percent discount for payment before November but that there will be a five percent penalty for payment after that date.

In his ruling, Judge Wisler said that:

1. East Donegal's township tax was not validly levied on the annexed part in question.
2. Mount Joy Borough is entitled to assess and collect the same taxes on persons in the Florin annexation that it collects from other residents of the borough.
3. East Donegal is not entitled to 1963 taxes from the annexed area.
4. If any taxes have already been collected by the township from the annexed portion the money must be refunded.

He also ordered the township supervisors to pay the costs of the court proceeding. The amount of money involved in the form of taxes is about $4,000.

It was pointed out that the supervisors, technically, could appeal the decision but legal counsel indicated that it is highly unlikely.

Say "Cheese," and Everyone Smiles!

October is Cheese Festival month, and an excellent way to enjoy cheese is in a luscious Welsh Rabbit—one of the oldest and most popular of all cheese dishes.

This is an appetizing, satisfying concoction that doesn't take too long to prepare if you're entertaining guests after a Friday night or Saturday afternoon ball game. Next to a good Cheddar, beer or ale is the prime ingredient in the Rabbit; the brew enhances the delectable cheese flavor with subtlety, and gives the mixture its light, smooth consistency.

Serve this delicious Welsh Rabbit over toast, accompanied by a tossed green salad and frosty glasses of well-chilled beer and ale for a high-scoring supper!

Welsh Rabbit

- |  |                                  |
|--|----------------------------------|
| 1 tablespoon butter                          | 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce |
| 1 pound aged Cheddar cheese, grated (4 cups) | 1 teaspoon dry mustard           |
| ½ cup beer or ale                            | ¼ teaspoon Tabasco               |
| 1 teaspoon salt                              | 1 teaspoon paprika               |

In double boiler over hot (not boiling) water, melt butter and cheese. As cheese begins to melt, gradually stir in beer or ale. Cook only until smooth and hot. Stir in seasonings and serve at once from a casserole kept hot on a candlelit warming stand. Serve on toast points. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.
