eons far underground, its guardhouse and officers' quarters.

Here, looking out across the waters of the Patapsco River toward the Chesapeake Bay, one can almost catch a glimpse of the events of 150 years ago—events that previously had existed only in the pages of history books!

(And it's only an hour and a half from Mount Joy, via York and the new super-highway, Interstate 83!)

Another interesting place, also about an hour and a half from Mount Joy, is the "International" Airport at Philadelphia!

For an afternoon of intensely interesting activity, you couldn't go to a better spot!

From a long "pier" built right out into the center of things, you can almost reach out and "touch" the jets, Constellations and other big planes as they come taxiing in to unload their passengers!

You can see at close range the actual mechanics of the servicing of the planes—the coming of the fuel trucks, the caterers' trucks, the luggage vans. You can observe the solicitation of the stewardesses for passengers who need wheel chairs or other help. And you can share in the goodbyes and the hellos of the passengers and their friends!

It is a fascinating place! Only thing: it gives us the "fever" to board one of the giants and take off for some of its glamorous destinations—Ireland or Timbuctoo!

But then if we did, we'd miss a lot that's going on right here at home! Had you noticed how beautiful the many Japanese red maples are right now? There are hundreds of them in Mount Joy, and they are at their loveliest. They have lost very few of their leaves yet, and stand bravely defiant of our present cold weather. One which made us catch our breath at its beauty is in the Warren Heisey yard on Poplar Street.

Distant tragedies sometimes come closer home than you think. The recent horrible tragedy at the Ice Show in the Coliseum at Indianapolis came very close to us.

When our two older girls were small, we took them each autumn, without fail, to see Sonja Henie's ice revue at the Indianapolis Coliseum. We have sat many times in the seats that were shattered by the explosion.

And our Martha, who is in college at Indiana University this year at Bloomington, just 50 miles south of Indianapolis, had planned to go to the Ice Show with a friend, and had tickets for the Sunday matinee, just three days after the tragedy.

Of course the show was cancelled and ticket money refunded.)
