

The Mount Joy

BULLETIN

SECOND SECTION

VOL. 63. NO. 25

Mount Joy, Penna., Wednesday, November 20, 1963

"Over the Back Fence" Manheim Classes To Present Play

by Max Smith

HOW MANY COWS should a dairyman milk? This question has often been asked of our dairy authorities. Rather difficult to answer, we'll admit, but the answer should be based upon the production of the cows and the labor supply. It's easier to get "big" in the dairy business than it is to get "better". Under modern dairy methods, we're told that each man should produce 250,000 pounds of milk per year. This can be done with 18 to 20 good cows or with 35 to 40 of the other kind.

Max Smith

HERE'S A COMMON question this time of the year, "Does it pay to do Forage Testing"? For several years I've had the opinion that too few County farmers are taking advantage of the forage testing service. For a cost of $5 per sample the hay and the silage quality should control the kind and amount of grain fed. A free feed recommendation comes with the report if requested. I feel that many farmers can save far more than the cost of the test if they actually knew the value of their roughage and followed the recommendations.

MANY ACRES of clover and alfalfa have been sprayed during the past month for insect control; this fall spraying program has given good control of the forage insects next spring. However, livestock producers should refrain from grazing their animals on this land until next spring.

WITH THE great contribution of electricity in our modern farming methods, we are nearly stopped without it. Many of our mechanized farm operations depend upon electricity. With the snow season approaching and possible icing conditions, we again mention the place of the stand-by power unit to be used in case of emergency. Generators that may be operated by the farm tractor could fulfill a very useful purpose.

COURSES OFFERED by the Penn State University are available to every Pennsylvanian; these courses covering a large variety of subjects in both agriculture and home economics are not expensive and provide an opportunity to learn during leisure hours. These courses are becoming more popular each year and local folks are urged to consider some of them during the winter months. For additional information, write to "List of Courses", Box 5000, University Park, Pa.

BOOKMOBILE FIRST TUESDAY

Mount Joy Memorial Park 1 to 8 p.m.

SECOND TUESDAY

Mastersonville Fire Hall 10 to 12 a.m.

THIRD TUESDAY

Bainbridge Post Office 10 to 12 a.m.

FOURTH TUESDAY

Landisville Fire Hall 10 to 12:30 a.m.

East Petersburg Bank 12:30 to 4 p.m.

Junior and senior classes of the Manheim Central high school will present the murder trial play, "The Night of January 16," at the school auditorium Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 22-23.

An interesting feature of the presentation will be the fact that the jury for the "trial" in the play will be selected from the audience and will sit in the jury box on the stage.

Included in the cast for the play are Judy Martin, Jay Weidman, Jack Wolf, James Hollinger, Dennis Dennenberg, Don Hollinger, Elizabeth Brantley, Tom Greenawalt, Michael Clair, Karen Newmann, Sherry Miller, Donald Bentzel, Pat Maybe, Donald Herneisen, Everett Mitchell, Phyllis Sides, Alice Rohrbaugh, Judith Mikota, Carol Metzler, Cathy Disinger, James Hoffman, Linda Nelson and Carol Enteline. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Membership Drive

Officers of the Manheim fire company are now conducting their annual drive for memberships for the year 1964. In charge are J. Harry Carper, Leroy Peiffer, Medwin Barto.

At P. T. A.

Student teachers presented the program for the Manheim P.T.A. meeting held Tuesday, Nov. 19. They told of their

(Turn to page 9)

For Good Thanksgiving Eating

If your Thanksgiving dinner is to serve just a small number, you probably will not be serving a big turkey. That is not to say, though, that your meat problem will be a difficult one. There is available at your meat counter today small turkeys, roasting chickens, turkey or chicken parts, or for something elegant, rock Cornish Game Hens. Turkeys or chicken can be bought already stuffed, if you so desire. In the following recipe we are using a ready-stuffed bird.

ROASTER WITH SPICY PINEAPPLE AND SQUASH

Roasting Chicken with Wild Rice Stuffing
6 large pineapple slices
1 Cup pineapple syrup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
6 whole cloves
1 cinnamon stick
3 cups mashed cooked squash
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon brown sugar
Roast the already-stuffed chicken according to directions on wrapper. Drain pineapple slices. Combine pineapple syrup, lemon juice, cloves, and cinnamon stick in a saucepan. Heat 15 to 20 minutes. Add pineapple slices and simmer 15 minutes. Drain. Arrange pineapple slices around roast stuffed chicken. Season squash with salt and pepper. Mound hot squash on pineapple just before serving. Sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon brown sugar on top of each mound. Spiced pineapple and squash may be assembled and heated in the oven with the chicken the last 20 minutes of the roasting time.

If you like to make your own stuffing, try these—

SAVORY CORN BREAD STUFFING

2 15-oz. packages of corn bread mix
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup raisins
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon ground sage
1 teaspoon thyme leaves
1 teaspoon rosemary leaves
1 1/2 cups melted butter
1 cup milk
(Turn to page 7)

The WORRY CLINIC

Case Records of a Psychologist

By - George W. Crane, Ph.D., M. D.

If you parents wish to break up an unwise romance, follow the psychological technique described today. Don't open a frontal attack and thus force your child into more active defense of his prospective sweetheart, but change her setting and she may jolt him out of his sentimental blindness.

CASE M-472: Charlene F., aged 19, is a waitress in a small town restaurant near an army camp.

"My son Charles is smitten with her charms," a wealthy Chicago woman informed me, "and wants to marry her."

"But his father and I are afraid he is simply overcome by loneliness and is thus glamorizing the girl unduly because he sees so few eligible young women."

"We haven't met Charlene, though we have read about her charms in letters from Charles. She may be a fine girl, but we are afraid this romance is based on propinquity."

"Dr. Crane, what should we do to prevent our son from making a tragic mistake in his marriage?"

Diagnosis

When large groups of men are relatively isolated from normal social life, they tend to grow unduly hungry for feminine company.

If they then encounter a few girls in a specialized type of environment such as a lumber camp or army dance hall, they may quickly

(Turn to page 4)

News Notes from E'town

Receives Award

The Rev. Raymond L. Fetter, pastor of Christ Lutheran church in Elizabethtown, received the Distinguished Service certificate from the American Legion in District 10 Veterans Day activities at the Hotel Brunswick recently in Lancaster.

The certificate, the highest honor the American Legion can give to a non-Legionnaire, was presented for the Rev. Fetter's service to Legion activities and to his community and state.

The E-tonettes, popular singing group, were presented with certificates for participation in Legion activities on a state and community level.

On Hockey Team

Julie Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dickson of Elizabethtown, has been named as a member of the Central Pennsylvania first and second teams in hockey, which completed in the Mid-East tournament at Wilson College in Chambersburg. Julie is a student at Lock Haven state college.

Gets Scholarship

Dale Garman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Garman of Elizabethtown, is one of 42 Wittenberg University students to be awarded an alumni honor scholarship. Stipends of the awards range from $100 to $1,300 and are renewable for four years if the recipient maintains an academic average of 2.8. Dale is a freshman this year.

Received Award

Anna Mary Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miller M. Hess, Mount Joy R2, was presented with the Student Leadership award, class of '64, at the third annual convention exercises of the Capitol City School of Nursing, District of Columbia, General Hospital, Washington, D. C. The award is based on principals of personality, high moral character and leadership in the various non-academic activities of the class.

NONE OTHER

That "villanous" character you heard described during the political debate is none other than the nice neighbor who decided, in a weak moment, to run for political office.

MAY BE

Much of the lost faith in heaven may be due to the assumption that marriages are made there.

Don't cuss the climate. It probably doesn't like you any better than you like it.

'63 Exposition Sets Records

The 1963 Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition, biggest of these events that have been held each year since 1957, continued to set new high records last week.

Three hundred Pennsylvania 4-youths from 50 counties, nearly double former participation, staged a 22-number horse show that highlighted exposition entertainment.

Twenty-three judging teams from 19 states, another record number, competed in intercollegiate and junior (4-H and FFA) contests. Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich., won the intercollegiate event and Virginia (4-H), the junior contest.

Market steers averaged 29.97 cents a pound, wethers, 23.09 cents a pound, and barrows, 17.81 cents a pound at auction. Steers in the sale totaled 61 head, lambs, 222, and hogs, 179.

Seventy-six feeder calves averaged 37.89 cents a lb., the top animal going for 61 cents.

Portage Farms, Woodville, O., received $2.01 a pound for a 1050-pound Hereford that took the steer grand championship. George's Foodliner, Bethlehem, was the buyer.

CHECK!

"One has to be a little crazy to write a book," observed an author, and sometimes one has to be a little crazy to read some of them.

Marietta Notes

Becomes Brownies

Eleven girls were invested into Brownie Troop 34 at the Marietta Community House recently.

Receiving the "Brownie" pins from the troop leader, Mrs. Robert Spangler, were Cecelia Miller, Jennie Hiestand, Carol Frymoyer, Lisa Geesey, Lauralee Baker, Anne Spangler, Marlene Shope, Rosetta Cramer, Louise Harner, Deana Libhart and Marcia Johnson. Other members of the troop are Jody Sargen, Linda Frick, Joyce Ruby, Leah Edye, and Lynn Weaver. Mrs. Melvin Hiestand is assistant leader.