Plan Cattle Feeder Meets

A series of three Cattle Feeder Meetings will be held for Lancaster county feeders as follows:

Thursday evening, January 30, 7:30 p.m.; Thursday evening, February 6, 7:30 p.m., and Thursday evening, February 13, 7:30 p.m.

This series of meetings is a part of many livestock clinics being held in various parts of Pennsylvania by the Extension Service. They are open to the public and will be given free of any charges.

The January 30 meeting will feature Ben Morgan, livestock extension specialist, discussing the Economics of Cattle Feeding" and "Buying the Right Kind of Cattle". In addition, Dr. Bill Adams, from the extension veterinary science department, will discuss "Beef Cattle Health and Sanitation". The speakers and subjects for the following two meetings will be announced at the January 30 meeting.

These educational clinics have been well accepted in many parts of the state in other fields of production. This is the first one for Lancaster county on cattle feeding. Actually, it is a short course in cattle feeding.

All meetings will be held in Rohrerstown elementary school at Rohrerstown.

CHECK CLOTHING

Buy clothing with a concern for the kind of care it will need, advises Bernice Tharp, Penn State extension clothing specialist. Most manufacturers put an extra hang tag on a garment stating whether it must be dry-cleaned or if it can be laundered, and whether the garment can be machine dried or line dried.

ST. FRANCIS IN AN AIRPLANE

I thank Thee, O Lord God, For this my strange and wondrous brother, Air, That seemed so weak and fickle, And yet can hold me up as firmly here, As he sustains my little friends, the birds.

I thank Thee for my sister, shining Rock Oil, Distilled by sunlight out of ancient ferns, Obedient to Thy will and pleasure, To be a mighty lifting strength and swiftness More than a caravan of horses, For human burdens.

I bless Thee for my good bright brother, Steel, So valiant and so trusty, Who is my chariot through the clouds. And most of all I thank Thee now, For that most marvelous of Thy lower gifts, The mortal mind, So daring and so cunning, That teaches us to use all else on earth, For our advantage. But never, never may soul forget, To give to Thee all glory, thanks, and praise. Amen!

CALKING SAVES FUEL

According to Roger Grout, extension agricultural engineer at Penn State, areas in many homes needing calking are around chimneys, doors and windows. Cracks and openings which let water inside should be calked.
