Over The Back Fence

THE RECENT STATE FARM SHOW was given quite a shock by adverse weather conditions. The first two days will no doubt be remembered for record-low number of people attending. This situation reminds us once again of the great importance of weather conditions on all phases of agriculture. The success or failure of many farm operations might be determined by the kind of weather conditions, especially the amount of rainfall during the growing season.

RECENT LIVESTOCK figures show the sheep population to be declining throughout Pennsylvania as well as the rest of the county. However, the number of sheep on farms in Lancaster County continues to increase; the county continues to rank third in the state in sheep numbers. Lamb and mutton consumption per person continues to decline; wool consumption per person also continues to decline. It is possible that this species of livestock will become extinct in another generation or so?

FARMERS who are intending to plant evergreen trees this spring should have them ordered; many varieties may be hard to get at planting time. Rough or idle land

Timely Tips for Women

Salads create an attractive main dish for luncheon, a pretty fruit accompaniment for dinner, or a luscious frozen dessert creation when you're party planning. It's easy to find just the right salad for every occasion. Nutritionally salads are a delicious food by themselves and are claiming a larger portion of the menu picture.

Serve salads as an "accompaniment" salad to be eaten with the main course, or to garnish the meat platter. As a first course appetizer, salads become a "main dish salad," "salad plate," "dessert salad," or "party salad."

Remember these salad pointers:

Use only chilled and crisped salad greens. Greens should never extend beyond the edge of plate. Excess greenery can dwarf a salad.

Try for color, flavor, form, and texture contrast when combining salad ingredients. Arrange any salad on a chilled plate (bowl) in a simple manner. Avoid a cluttered

Drain canned fruits thoroughly on paper towels; vegetables in a sieve. Always chill canned fruits and vegetables. (Turn to page 3)

The Worry Clinic

Timmy is like thousands of grammar schoolers who suffer inferiority complexes due to fat. At other times they become delinquent to offset that humiliation of being called "Fatso". Many fat teen-age girls also become sexually delinquent in their abnormal hunger for social acceptance.

CASE N-457:-Timmy T., aged 11, is called "Fatso" by his classmates.

"Dr. Crane," his worried mother began. "Timmy is far too heavy, so what can we do to help him?"

"Maybe he inherits it from his father, who is sixty pounds overweight.

"And plumpness also runs in my family too, for I should take off 25 pounds myself.

"But Timmy resents being called 'Fatso' and the other night I found him crying because he said he wanted to be thin, like the other boys."

Fat Complexes Thousands of boys and girls in grammar school develop personality complexes because they are called "Fatso".

Sometimes they even launch upon delinquency because of their mental anguish and desire to gain a new respect

So you mothers of fat boys and fat girls should be doubly on the guard.

Occasionally, extreme obesity in a child is due to glandular deficiency, which can be remedied in part by thyroid extract and other drugs.

But even in the glandular cases, a child cannot add fat unless he is over-eating.

NEWS IN MARIETTA

Mayor Makes Statement To People

The Mayor's Corner

Once again I am compelled to warn dog owners that state laws and borough ordinances forbid dogs running loose under penalty of a fine. Even though they are licensed they must be on a leash when taken for a walk. I have had some complaints from citizens and I have instructed our Chief of Police to arrest the offenders. So, when you see a dog running loose, call Chief Discavage, who is listed in the phone book, and he will respond to your complaint. This is the proper way to get results, rather than carry on at council meetings.

A pat on the back is due to the street committee for coping with the huge task of opening and widening the travel space of our streets right after the recent blizzard. Considering that this was the worst we had in many years, our streets were the cleanest of any community around us. I agree that a few spots were neglected, which is to be expected, as it would require a miracle to clean every nook and corner in our sprawling town with its narrow streets and alleys all at once. If your section was neglected, call Street Commissioner chairman Jno. Libhart, or Leroy Appley or informed me that a state policeman, and possibly some one from the Lancaster County Safety committee, which Henry J. Marshall represents, also may be present, to instruct the class in ways of coping with their duties in case of emergency, such as fires, floods, accidents, etc. (Turn to page 5)

Henry Lenhart, and I am sure that they will take care of you. Citizens, in general, were very cooperative in opening a good path on side walks.

My congratulations to the fire police for having set up a schooling period for January 30th at the fire hall Captain Edwin Rutherford Jr.

Thousands of Midwest farmers now average over 125 bushels of corn per acre for their entire farms, compared to 100 bushels or less on a few of the better farms 10 years ago.

Actually, many Midwest farmers are getting 150 bus. an acre on most of their fields.

Chicken Goes With Anything

When you talk about a versatile food, don't overlook poultry. Chicken is so good by itself, but it also lends itself well to casseroles. It enhances the flavor of vegetables, sauces and even goes well with fruits. Just give this Chicken A La Orange a try.
