● Move Toward

Board of Tax Adjustment to fill vacancies left by the resignations of Glenn Y. Forney and James Heilig.

First look at the 1964 summer street program was taken when street committee chairman S. A. Horton presented proposals which carry estimates totaling a little over $30,000. The budget, however, calls for only $20,000 for streets this summer.

Specifications and bid preparations are to be made by the borough's engineer.

Although what improvements will be made will depend upon bid prices and the council's final selections, generally, the original plan called for Market street from the railroad bridge north to the park and from Columbia avenue south; one block of Delta street; 3,400 feet of Frank street; Ice avenue and portions of Manheim and New streets.

Two ordinance amendments were passed. One was designed to better spell out how curbs are to be built and the other clarified the borough's bicycle ordinance.

Four new street lights were ordered installed — one near the VFW home on Longenecker road and three mercury at the Angle street railroad bridge in Florin.

A $50 donation to the Memorial Day parade committee was voted.
