Over The Back Fence

IN RECENT YEARS we have heard much comment about the use of spray materials and chemicals in agriculture; or a much better way to put it would be the "mis-use" of these materials . . . this has been the cause of most of the disturbance. As the 1964 growing season unfolds, we want to caution all home-owners and farmers to be extra careful with all spray materials. Be sure and read the instructions and follow them. Store all chemicals away from children and livestock and be certain each one is clearly identified.

THE IMPORTANCE of early spring seeding of lawns and pastures cannot be over-emphasized. Here in southeastern Pennsylvania the weather gets hot and dry early in the summer as compared to many other parts of the state. This means that if these new seedings do not get well established by early June, they will dry up and burn out. Many folks who have made May and June seedings have learned this the hard way. Every effort should be made to get these seedings made by mid-April, unless water supplies are available for regular watering and irrigation. In many cases it may be advisable, if the seeding cannot be made in April, to (Turn to page 4)

Timely Tips for Women

Proper Way To Store Fresh Meat

Fresh meat is perishable and needs proper storage. You should store it in the refrigerator as soon as you get home from shopping.

If fresh meats are wrapped in market paper, remove the paper and cover the meat loosely with waxed paper, or aluminum foil. Wrapping loosely allows air to circulate. Store meat in the meat compartment of your refrigerator.

If you must keep fresh meat longer than two or three days, it's best to freeze the meat. Separate chops, steaks, and ground meat patties with two layers of freezer paper, then wrap meat in moisture-vapor proof paper and freeze. For the best flavor, color, texture and appearance, use fresh pork, veal, and ground beef within four months, use lamb within seven months, and beef within eight months.

The Worry Clinic

Nellie's tragic situation shows you the danger in "sibling blackmail". So beware lest you make your youngsters financial cripples! Instead, urge the boy to carry a newspaper route, for that gives the BEST training in America nowadays in the various phases of business. Do not put your child on an allowance!

CASE O-432: Nellie G., aged 41, is a spinster teacher. "Dr. Crane," she began, "I have a brother 10 years younger. I have always spoiled him, even when he was a child.

"For I furnished him too liberal an allowance. And I paid his way through college.

"Then, when I was thinking of getting married, he eloped with a girl whom he had made pregnant and as he had no job, I had to defer marriage in order to help him.

"Indeed, I used the trouseau money I had saved to help him make a down payment on a little house.

"Before I could salvage enough savings to get married, his wife gave birth to twins, and he begged me for more aid.

"Well, it has been going on like that till I have lost my last chance of matrimony. Recently, I refused him any more aid, for he has been leaning on me as a financial crutch ever since he entered kindergarten.

"He owes me in unpaid notes over $15,000. And now (Turn to page 6)

WOODLOT SAFETY

E. P. Farrand, extension forester at Penn State, urges farmers to be extra careful to prevent injury while working in farm woodlots. Be sure axe handles are very strong and solidly mounted; shut off motor of the power chain saw when filling with gas, be careful with footing, and beware of falling trees.

What can't be done easily probably can't be done well.

$41,000 on the street with the idea it will be turned over to the borough. A group of residents Thursday night decided to go to Sen. Richard A. Snyder to see if he can't get the state to keep the street and continue to maintain it.

Residents also previously complained about the way the state is fixing the street.

Churches Plan Spring Cleaning

Some churches are selecting Spring Clean-Up time as an occasion for making their church social halls spic and span after the wear and tear of heavy usage during the winter, according to reports received by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Cleaning of the social hall by these churches has been turned into a combination work and pleasure event, says the National Board.

At 4 o'clock on a designated Saturday afternoon, for instance members of the church who are planning to participate in the cleaning assemble, bringing their own dust mops, cleaning cloths, furniture polish, pails and detergents.

Different parts of the hall are assigned to teams of three. Three members are given the job of scouring the kitchen range, another takes on the job of washing pots and pans and dishes, and other volunteers polish the silver.

Others mop the kitchen floor.

In the social assembly hall the floor is cleaned and waxed and polished.

Usually the complete job can be done in less than an hour. Then a group of the women prepare a dinner.

At 6 o'clock the members who have been engaged in the cleaning are joined by their families for a social hour. Then dinner is served at 7 o'clock.

Members say this clean-up plan works, and at the same time, provides a pleasant social evening.

Duties: The tasks we look forward to with distaste, perform with reluctance, and brag about ever after.
