Landisville-Salunga

Mrs. William K. Risser

Mrs. Virgil M. Nolt, 61, wife of Mark S. Nolt, 194 Cooper Ave., Landisville, died Monday, June 29 at St. Joseph's hospital.

Mrs. Nolt was a member of the Lancaster County Florists Club and was a well known floral designer in the city and county. In addition to her parents and her husband, surviving are two sons and a daughter, four grandchildren, two brothers and one sister.

A meeting of the Landisville - Salunga 4-H Sewing Club was held Monday, June 29th from 9 to 11 a. m. in the home economics room of Hempfield Union high school.

Michael Mease, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mease, 111 School Lane, Landisville, graduated from Goldey Beacom School of Business, Wilmington, Del., recently.

The Hempfield Recreation Center held a covered dish supper at the Landisville Pool Sunday, July 5 at 5 p.m. Pony rides were available for the children at the pool at 3:30 p.m.

Purchase of a residential property in the Rohrerstown area for use as a township office building was approved at a recent meeting of the East Hempfield Township supervisors. Supervisors approved a resolution to purchase for $20,000 the property of Thomas G. and Hilda S. Harris, 901 Rohrerstown Road located just north of Rohrerstown.

The building will house offices of the supervisors, township police, planning and zoning commission, tax collector and sanitation office. Supervisors approved use of the present township maintenance building for voter registration on Sept. 8.

The board approved plans to place picnic tables and benches along roads in the township.

Next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, August 6, at 7 p.m.

Henry R. Rutter, 650 Stony Battery Road, Landisville, was appointed the West Hempfield Township member of a joint sewer authority being formed by six municipalities west of the city. West Hempfield's appointment of Rutter completes the authority with the exception of Lancaster City. Rutter is a systems analyst at Schick, Inc.

Miss Mary Ellen Mumma was presented with a scholarship by the Lancaster County Bankers Association at a recent 4-H Leaders banquet.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Mumma, she was selected on the basis of her 4-H activities and record. She plans to attend Pennsylvania State University.

A recent graduate of Hempfield high school, she was a member of the National Honor Society.

The 94th session of the Landisville Camp Meeting opened Saturday evening, July 11. The camp will continue through July 19. The camp opened with a meeting for youth, with the Rev. Warren C. Reidel, former cowboy star, now pastor of Ross Street Methodist church, as the speaker. The camp evangelist, the Rev. Orion T. Rhoades, will speak nightly at 7:45 p.m.

Winners of the hobby show held at the Landisville playground on July 10 were as follows: Susan Miller, most creative hobby; Wanda Strickler, most interesting hobby; Anne Kuehne, most complete hobby; Tom Lupold, most unusual hobby; Robert Kain and Leslie Miller, neatest hobby.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Canals

Gerald Smeltzer, who recently published a book on the subject, Tuesday talked to Mount Joy Rotarians on "Canals of the Lower Susquehanna" and showed pictures.

He told about river and canal transportation and showed some rare photos of boats, locks, canals and other installations which disappeared about the time of the Civil War.

Also on the program Tuesday was Robert Long, who spoke briefly on the proposed, new toll free telephone service between Mount Joy and Lancaster, Landisville and Manheim.

He pointed out the economic and social advantages which free dialing can provide. If approved, he said that such service would be started late in 1965 or early the next year.

Rotarians will hold a family night party Tuesday, July 21, at the Sico park. There will be no noon meeting.

The Tuesday noon speakers were introduced by Lester G. Hostetter, vice-president and program chairman.
