Ice Show Offers Weather Relief

There's a chance coming up to get relief from the hot Summer weather. Cool off and enjoy 2½ hours of the finest entertainment when ICE CAPADES gives a Pre Broadway showing at the Hershey Sports Arena Aug. 15 through 22.

Madrid, Cario, Calcutta, New York, London, Singapore, Rome — exciting cities, each calling to mind its own special international flavor. But long ago a vote must have been taken to proclaim the romantic capitol of the world, and a chorus of voices sighed in unison — Paris.
 Paris — inspiration of the artist, the author, the composer, theme of romantic novels, setting of well-remembered paintings, the melody of nostalgic songs.
 And now, Paris lends its romantic aura to a new medium; to a love story set in a ballet on ice in ICE CAPADES fabulous 25th Silver Anniversary edition which will play for 6 nights and 2 matinees.
 ICE CAPADES has chosen to present its love story, not in the Paris of today, but in the era of Toulouse-Lautrec, the Moulin Rouge, and Maxim's . . . Paris circa 1890.

"When Paris Was Young" stars beautiful Lynn Finnegan and handsome Peter Voss. Also starred is the adagio team of Romayne and Steele, adding a new dimension to poetry in motion.

ICE CAPADES re-creation of the Paris of 1890 required collaboration. Robert Fletcher designed both costumes and scenery; Ivan Lane arranged the music; Ron Fletcher and his associates, Buddy Schwab, created the choreography.

The heavens have fascinated man for centuries . . . but with space now a conquerable reality, the fascination is greater than ever before for today's children. Star-gazing on a summer night is a fun-filled way to introduce boys and girls to the planets, comets, asteroids and meteors. The junior astronomer needs only this powerful yet inexpensive telescope designed especially for viewing sky objects by The A. C. Gilbert Co., manufacturers of educational toys.
