SEVEN CENTS

Public schools are beset by many problems, but none are more difficult, more detrimental to the schools or more exasperating to those responsible for the schools than the last-minute teacher resignations.

School teachers are signed to a contract. The contract sets out the terms of employment. It is a fully legal arrangement in every way, yet every year in August, on the very eve of the opening of school, teacher after teacher breaks the contract and walks away—frequently to another job.

Schoolmen feel almost helpless to fight against the system. Yet, an August resignation in a key spot can give a school a kick in the pants that can not be rectified for years.

Because certain teaching spots are very hard to fill, it sometimes becomes necessary at the last minute to employ what may be second rate teacher, until time and circumstance make it possible to make another change and improvement.

The horrible part of the entire situation is that one jump starts a chain reaction. As a teacher leaves one school, administrators look over the fence into another district and "hire away" a replacement. The second district must fill its class rooms, so it looks across another fence and grabs someone else. The process is continued until—

August job hopping by teachers who walk out from under a contract is not one of the things which gives the teaching profession its brightest lustre in the eyes of the public.

Last week a lot of people expressed the hope that there will be more programs of "music in the park."

To date, the Community Council has been chiefly responsible for the program. Other organizations have picked up the tab a few times but the Council has been the motivating force which has caused the programs to happen.

It's interesting to know that the Borough Council could—at least it is allowed by law to do so—provide some finances to furnish "borough music."

The membership of the NCA includes candy and chocolate manufacturers, as well as suppliers and produces an estimated 85 percent of the nation's annual output of 3.3 billion pounds of candy.

turers Association of the U.S.A., will serve as the official representative of CMA on the Board of Directors of the candy association.

He served as chairman of the N.R.A. Code Authority of his industry during the life of that agency.

During World War II, he was a member of the Government Advisory Committee for the chocolate and cocoa industry.

Lions Distribute Coin Cards

Coin cards, accompanied by letters, are being distributed throughout this week by the Mount Joy Lions club, asking help to sponsor the annual Halloween parade.

Called a "mile of pennies" the collection is the same as has been conducted in past years to raise funds to pay prizes, provide bands and to underwrite the big fall activity on Halloween night.

Members of the Mount Joy Lions club will collect the coin cards on Wednesday evening, Sept. 2.

The Lions have sponsored the parade for several years to provide an evening of entertainment for both young and old in the community and surrounding area. Clubmen believe that the community appreciates the effort, which has practically eliminated vandalism and other destructive mischief on Halloween night.

Florin Area Sewer Project Moving

Council Passes and Mayor Signs Ordinance Extending Authority

All road blocks, apparently, have been cleared and the final technicalities will be satisfied on Tuesday night, Sept. 1, for beginning of sewer construction in the Florin area.

On that date, financing and construction commitments are expected to be made at the September meeting of the Mount Joy Borough Authority.

Actual construction work is expected to get underway within about 30 days — or early in October.

At a special meeting of the Mount Joy Borough Council, held Friday night, Aug. 21, an ordinance authorizing a 50-year life of the Borough Authority was passed unanimously and this week was signed by Mayor Frank Walter.

At the time the council action was taken, Mayor Walter said that he could not see the reason for extending the life of the Authority for 50 years.

He indicated that he would favor a 30-year extension rather than the one which prolonged the financing and operating group until the year 2014.

However, during conferences following the Friday night meeting answered his questions and by mid-week the legal action was completed.

Originally, Council had been expected to pass the ordinance on Friday night, Aug. 14. At that time, however, councilmen felt that they wanted a little time to give the matter further study. Thus, they recessed their special meeting until the 21st.

Last Friday night, six councilmen met with four members of the Authority in the fire house. After an amiable discussion involving specific questions and answers, there was warm and favorable talk of attempting to find a way of arranging their respective affairs in such a way that they could employ a borough manager.

It was explained that the $640,000 bond issue being prepared for financing the Florin area sewers will mature in 40 years—in 2004—but that bonding houses want an additional 10 years life of the authority in case there are any possible difficulties.

IMPROVED

William K. Risser, Salunga, who was injured seriously in an automobile accident two weeks ago, is still in St. Joseph's hospital, Lancaster, but his condition is greatly improved. He is a patient in room 339.

Hurt In Crash Near Donegal

Donald Forry, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Forry, is a patient in Osteopathic hospital (room 108), recovering from serious injuries received Friday morning, Aug. 21, about 8:30 o'clock.

A senior at Donegal high school and a candidate for the Indian football squad, young Forry had reported for morning practice, had suited up and had left the dressing rooms several minutes ahead of drill time.

He was taking a spin on a motor scooter of a friend and had ridden off the school yard onto Marietta road when he collided with a jeep.

He suffered a compound fracture of his left leg and internal injuries. A local physician was called and he was removed to the hospital in the Friendship Fire company ambulance.

Later he underwent surgery for removal of his spleen.

Aument and Zerphey Win

Frank Aument and Don Zerphey were top winners Sunday, Aug. 23, at Cool Creek course in the 11th annual Jaycee Golf tournament, which drew a record entry of 51 participants.

Aument took low gross honors with a 76, followed only two strokes back by Roy Packer. Third place went to Joe Hostetter, who nosed out Ken Smith and Jerry Hostetter in a 19th hole sudden death finale. All three had finished the 18 with 81's.

Zerphey fired a 99 with a 32 handicap to win the handicap division of the day's activities, giving him a net 67.

Paul Shreiner had 85-17 for a 68 and George Hetrick 92-23 for 69.

Charles Johnson won the award for driving the nearest the flag on the short 14th hole. He was within about 2 feet.

Prizes of sports clothing were awarded as prizes.

The tournament is sponsored each summer for golfers of the Mount Joy area. Jerry Hostetter and Robert Mackinson were co-chairman of this year's event. Handicaps were established through the new Mount Joy Golf Association.
