Conference

Pastors and delegates from the 110 churches of the East Pennsylvania Eldership of the Churches of God, numbering about 200 and including Mount Joy will convene for the 135th annual conference of churches at the First Church of God, Lancaster on Monday through Thursday of next week, Sept. 21-24.

Pastors and delegates will meet for an orientation session on Monday afternoon at which time the reports of boards and committees to be presented to the Eldership later in the week will be reviewed.

In the worship service on Monday evening the retiring president of the Eldership, Pastor Preston Lucas, Chambersburg will preach the sermon.

Following the worship service on Monday evening, there will be a reception for the Rev. Dr. Ivan E. Frick, recently-elected president of Findlay College, the denomination's college at Findlay, Ohio. The Rev. Dr. Frick is a former resident of Lancaster county and was a pastor both in Lancaster county and at Harrisburg.

Be Sure About Car

The car's condition, the driver's mental alertness, and courtesy to other drivers are three prime requisites for safe driving at any time but particularly over the forth coming Labor Day weekend, advises Keystone Automobile Club.

"The car itself must be the starting point of any examination of our personal safety consciousness", said Edward P. Curran, Keystone's Safety Director.

"Obvious though such foresight might seem, many drivers must be reminded not to gamble on badly worn tires and brakes. Such seemingly small things as windshield wipers that don't wipe clean, and a faulty engine or ignition system that causes frequent stalling in heavy traffic can prove highly dangerous, too. So, the first rule is to make certain the car is in the best possible mechanical condition.
