Councilmen considered the possibility of improving three different short stretches of alley but no decision was made.

Councilman Horton was instructed to keep a close financial check on the previously approved improvements and to keep the alley projects within the $20,000 budget for 1964 work. Work already authorized and in progress is expected to run between $18,000 and $19,000.

The new Florin traffic light is expected to be ready for operation by the end of the week. However, for as long as a week, it will give only a flashing signal.

Police Chief Bruce Kline explained that such a procedure is customary to help adjust local traffic to the new traffic system they will be encountering.

One part of that project calls for installation of a radial curb on the southwest corner to protect the signal equipment and pole.

Council authorized the power of four bulbs in street lights around Memorial park raised to 2,500 lumens at an additional cost of $16.20 for the balance of 1964.

No action was taken on a proposal to remove several lights on east Main street, east of the Chiques creek bridge.

It was brought out that the borough has a budgetary provision for $12,000 per year for street lighting. Currently the bills are running approximately $700 per month.

Council voted to ask the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. to survey and re-evaluate the borough street lighting plan.

The Florin Fire company was granted permission to buy 150 feet of 2½-inch fire hose.

Both Mount Joy companies were granted third-quarter allocations. Florin received $200, Friendship $250.

A communication from the State Highway Department indicated that a traffic survey will be made along Donegal Springs Road from the old Borough line to Spooky Hill corner with a view to establish a 35-mile-per-hour speed zone.

Council, after battling the subject around for many months, backed away from a "trailer ordinance" for Mount Joy. On advice of its counsel, Harris Arnold, councilmen felt that unless a "very comprehensive, long and expensive" ordinance it deemed advisable.

Approval was given to install a "stop" sign at the southwest corner of Delta and Henry streets.

Many Improvements Since Annexation

Annexation of Florin has been accomplished just a little more than 18 months now.

Yet, in that relatively brief interval, much has been done to integrate that section into the borough of Mount Joy.

Not all of the problems, of course, have been solved. Perhaps not all of the problems have even been tackled.

However, the initial list of "needs" in the newly-annexed section has been approached with vigor and with good results.

This week a long-discussed and long anticipated traffic light at Main and Angle streets is being installed.

Within a relatively few days actual construction of sewers in the Florin area is set to begin.

Street lights have been installed across the Angle St. bridge.

Houses have been numbered and door-to-door mail carrier service has been begun.

Aid to the Florin Fire company has been given by the Mount Joy Borough Council.

Florin, as a separate and distinct area of government, has been established as a ward and had full representation of three councilmen on the Borough Council.

A representative of the area was named to the Borough Authority. Although he does not now have residence in the area, he owns and operates a business in the Florin area and has lived in the section for many years.

Mount Joy's Christmas lighting has been extended through the Florin area and the "west" greeting sign erected at the west edge of the borough.

Mount Joy parades now begin in the Florin area and march through all three of the borough's wards.

All borough services have been carried into the Florin ward—snow plowing, police protection, street lights and garbage collection, for instance.

The Florin Hall situation has been tackled and the Borough Authority has had a look at the possibility of joining the Mount Joy and Florin water systems, including the possible purchase of the latter company.

The matter of walkways to the Grandview school is being taken care of this fall. A new walk will connect the school with the west end of Birchland avenue and another will provide a paved passageway from the school to the east end of Water street.

Lora Lee Foley will be a sophomore at Millersville; Art Schneider will be a junior at Grove City College; Joanne Martin will be a senior at Juniata and Sue Martin a sophomore at the same college; Lonny Wolgemuth will be enrolled at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Jeanette Appley Mateer, a senior at Millersville in library science, will be doing her practical work this semester in Ephrata. Jean and Joan Staley are juniors this year at Catawba College in North Carolina.

Florin Lions Hold Meeting

The bimonthly meeting of the Florin Lions club was held Monday, Sept. 14, at 6:30 p.m. at the Mount Joy Diner.

The club was honored by the presence of Deputy District Governor, Robert Miller, Zone Chairman Lloyd Derr, William Shupert, Guy Loser, Jack Scott, and Kenneth W. Grove.

Entertainment was provided by Lion Jay Snyder, who showed slides of the Boy Scout Jamboree. Immediately after adjournment a Zone meeting was held.

IN CONNECTICUT

Miss Helen Rutt spent several days in Connecticut last week.

More Students to College

An additional number of Mount Joy area young people going away to college includes the following:

Peggy Brill, senior at Millersville, is practice teaching this semester in second grade under Mrs. Ludwig at Conestoga.

Joan Graybill is a junior at Eastern Mennonite College in Harrisonburg, Va.; Kenneth Brubaker, of Park Avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brubaker, is returning to Penn State this fall, where he will be a senior, majoring in business education;

Herbert Nix will be a sophomore at Messiah College in Grantham, Pa.; Carolyn Sloan will be a sophomore at Elizabethtown College; Richard Sloan will enter the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science; Robert Mariner will be a sophomore at Temple University in Philadelphia;

Sally Ulrich will be a sophomore at Millersville; Barbara Olson will be a sophomore at Wilson College, Chambersburg; David Greer will be a junior at Gettysburg; Joanne Newcomer will be a senior at Millersville;
