

Some Electric Frypan Dishes

Don't let your electric frypan pass the time away in your cupboard when it could be doing a super job of helping you with your cooking. You can use your frypan for just about any cooking you can think of. Here are some examples.

PORK CASSEROLE

2 tablespoons fat
2 pounds lean pork cubes
3 cups diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 10½ oz. cans condensed cream of chicken soup
½ cup water
6 oz. (about 3½ cups) wide noodles
2 cups cream style corn
Preheat frypan at 350 degrees until light blinks out. Brown pork in fat, pouring off any meat juices that accumulate. (These juices may be added later with the other ingredients.) Add celery and green pepper and brown lightly. Add salt, pepper, soup and water. Stir and cook covered at 225 degrees for 1 hour. Stir occasionally. Cook the noodles according to package directions. Drain. Mix cooked noodles and corn with ingredients in fry pan. Cover and cook 5 minutes. Top with buttered crumbs. Serves 8 to 10.

POTATO PANCAKES

3 cups grated potatoes (about 6 potatoes)
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup milk
3 tablespoons butter or margarine and pour off about ¼ cup of the accumulated potato water. (An electric blender simplifies the grating job.) Add the remaining ingredients, except the butter. If desired, a teaspoon of ascorbic acid powder, such as is used for fruit freezing, may be added to the batter to prevent it from darkening. Preheat frypan at 350 degrees until light blinks out. Add butter. Pour batter in small cakes in the frypan and brown on both sides. Makes about 16 cakes.

LASAGNA

8 ounces lasagna (very broad noodles)
3 tablespoons olive oil or salad oil
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 pound ground beef
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons oregano
2 cups stewed tomatoes
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
12 oz. ricotta cheese

½ pound mozzarella cheese sliced thin
½ cup grated parmesan cheese
½ cup brown buttered crumbs
Cook lasagna according to package directions in boiling salted water. Do not overcook. Drain. Preheat frypan to 350 degrees. Brown onion and garlic lightly in oil. Add ground beef and cook only until meat loses its red color. Stir in seasonings, tomatoes and tomato sauce. Reduce heat to 225 degrees. Arrange lasagna on top of meat sauce and ricotta and mozzarella on top of lasagna. Sprinkle parmesan on top and cover. Cook 25 minutes. Then increase temperature to 250 degrees and cook uncovered 10 to 15 minutes or until some of the liquid is evaporated and the mixture becomes the consistency of a casserole dish. Stir occasionally. Sprinkle with browned crumbs and serve. Serves 6 to 8.

NOTE: Wide noodles may be substituted for lasanga & cottage cheese may be substituted for ricotta.

Mortals are equal; their mask differs. —Voltaire
