LETTER TO EDITOR

As an organization, sincerely interested in the well being of our community, the Mount Joy Jaycees want to extend a hearty welcome to the corporation established to open the Joy Theater. Finally a void in our community is being filled. The community has suffered these many months due to the absence of our own theater. Our children have missed the Saturday afternoon matinees. The opportunity again is afforded the people of Mount Joy to have theater entertainment. The only cost for keeping this entertainment is—The support of the towns people.

was an important factor. Discovery that there is sufficient, experienced labor available and the availability of a suitable building were other reasons, he said.

The company will occupy space in the building built by the late A. D. Seiler on the site of the old Pennsylvania station and partially occupied by Package Printers and S. G. Phillips.

The space recently has been used by the Maytown Manufacturing plant but it was vacated early last month when the company completed its new quarters south of the Borough near Donegal high school.

be tunneled under in five places to provide sewer lines for properties on the north side of Bruce avenue. By Tuesday night, three cuts under had been made successfully and without damage.

The telephone wires are owned by Bell Telephone company. The coaxials are American Telephone and Telegraph property.

In addition to dealing with this particularly valuable underground utility, the sewer diggers constantly are faced with the problem of other installations, such as gas and water mains. And—the age of the water lines has been a contributing factor in making them a problem, including one father difficult problem on Church street.

Authority Moves To Tie Mount Joy And Florin Water Systems Together

Negotiations looking toward making an 'emergency' water hookup with the Florin Waterworks system at an early date were authorized on Tuesday night by the Mount Joy Borough Authority meeting in the fire hall for its November session.

Preliminary investigations of the possibility have indicated that such a step is feasible and that the Florin Water company is willing to sell water to Mount Joy's system.

Such matters as rates, meters, valves and other engineering matters are the next step.

It was said that mains of the two water companies are within a few feet of one another on Donegal Springs Road and that connections would be relatively simple.

The simplest type hookup would necessitate only a meter basin, meter and valves, it was indicated.

In the meantime, the Authority is continuing its investigation into the possibility of buying the entire Florin water plant which is owned by the American Waterworks company, which is a multi-million dollar corporation controlling many many water companies.

To date, negotiations have reached the point where the owners have advanced a figure as its "asking price."

By letter, the Authority was informed Tuesday that the price is $307,000.

The Authority, however, viewed that figure only as a beginning point for continued negotiations. The local body discussed several ways of arriving at a price which would be more equitable and more possible.

It was said that the water source of the Florin system produces some 2 million gallons of water per day.

Tribe To Meet Hempfield

Donegal high school's football Indians, after a week's intermission in the 1964 schedule, will swing back into action Saturday, meeting the Hempfield Black Knights.

Both the elevens will be entering the game — to be played at Hempfield — with 2 and 5 records for the season.

Last week, the Knights managed a big, 20-7, win at Solanco, making their victory record two in a row.

Quarterback Bob Cooper had a big day, completing 6 of 11 pass attempts and scoring on a 74-yard run of a fumble recovery.

On the next Saturday afternoon, Donegal will close the season, playing host to Elizabethtown.
