TESTS GIVEN

During the week of Nov. 9, the Otis Mental Ability Test were administered to the seventh grade pupils of the Donegal high school annex. This test is given as a regular, routine procedure of the guidance program. The purpose of the test is to measure the mental ability, or thinking power, of each individual boy and girl.

From the resulting scores, a reasonably sure measure of mental ability can be derived.

In making up this test, Arthur S. Otis has aimed for the most part at choosing that kind of question which depends as little as possible on schooling and as much as possible on the pupil's thinking.
