PP&L Makes Cut In Electric Rates

Voluntary reductions in electric rates, totalling nearly $2.7 million, have been approved by Pennsylvania Power & Light Company's board of directors. The reduced rates will affect nine out of ten PP&L residential customers and all of the company's residential and commercial space heating customers and industrial customers supplied at 66,000 volts.

At the same meeting, the board of directors increased the quarterly dividend on the company's common stock from 35 cents to 36 cents per share. The increased dividend will be payable January 2, 1965, to shareowners of record Dec. 10, 1964.

The new tariffs will be filed with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, and the lower rates, following Commission acceptance, will be applied to all bills rendered on or after Feb. 1.

Jack K. Busby, PP&L president, said that the proposed rate reduction is part of a continuing program of reductions occurring over the last 3½ years — amounting to about $13.3 million savings to customers annually and covering all major classes of service.

"These rate reductions," said the PP&L president, "pass on to our customers the full effect of company savings from both the 1964 and 1965 corporate income tax reductions. The rate reductions, however, are much greater than the tax cut benefits—the tax savings being equivalent to about $3.2 million of the $13.3 million total of annual rate savings.

Another factor in the company's ability to reduce costs has been our customer's increased use of electricity which has made it possible to expand our facilities and thus take advantage of the newest technologies. Important also to the growth has been the high level of the national economy, the greater prosperity here in Central Eastern Pennsylvania as a wide range of area development projects begin to bear fruit, and the energetic promotion of electric service.

For general residential customers, the proposed new rates provide an annual saving over the company's system of $1.6 million — the total effect on residential customers of the whole series of rate reductions which started Sept. 1, 1961, is a saving of over $5.7 million a year. The rate is reduced for all use in excess of 140 kilowatt-hours bimonthly. Over 92 per cent of all residential customers will receive decreases. In addition, the rate for all kilowatt-hour use in excess of 2,000 bimonthly (excluding kilowatt-hours billed at the special water heating rate) is reduced from 1.35c to 1.2c. This reduction is particularly favorable to users of electric air conditioning and supplementary electric space heating.
