The old Maytown Fire House was sold at public sale last Friday evening. John Heistand bought it for $1,060. The building will be torn down in the near future.

Deaths

GEORGE W. KIBLER

George W. Kibler, sixty-six, 559 W. Market St., Marietta, died Tuesday evening, March 30, at the Lancaster St. Joseph's hospital where he had been admitted earlier in the day.

He was the husband of Isabella Elder Kibler. A lifelong resident of Marietta, he was the son of the late Frank and Annie Cullister Kibler. He was employed by Wyeth Laboratories, Marietta, until his retirement in April, 1964.

He was a member of First Methodist Church of Marietta and the Pioneer Fire Co. Besides his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Lillian, wife of John Fry, and Doris, wife of Edward Smith, both of Marietta, and a son, Frank Kibler, Wrightsville.

Also surviving are these sisters and brothers: Mrs. Charles Gingrich, Columbia; Mrs. Mary Stahl, Marietta; Mrs. Hazel Snyder, Elizabethtown; Penrose Kibler of Lancaster, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Smedley Funeral home on Saturday, April 3, and burial was made in the Marietta cemetery.

GEORGE W. SCHNEIDER

George W. Schneider, 65, 4844 Cullen Road, Virginia Beach, Va., died Sunday morning in the Patrick Henry Hospital, Newport News, Va., after an illness of three months.

A native of Florin and a former resident of Mount Joy, he made his home in Virginia Beach the past 16 years. He was a son of the late Fred H. and Annie Watson Schneider, and attended the Episcopal church.

Survivors include one son, Harold Schneider, at Newport News; and three daughters, Dorothy, wife of Arthur G. Porter, Virginia Beach; Jean, wife of Jay Herr, of Mount Joy; Yvonne, wife of James Young, Mount Joy; 17 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Also surviving are these brothers and sisters:

James Schneider, Mount Joy; S. Frank Schneider, of Manheim; Claude S. Schneider, Lancaster; Mary, wife of John L. Schroll; Mrs. John Reigle; Audrey, wife of Alvin N. Collins; Caroline, wife of Omar G. Groff and Florence, wife of Robert M. Kling, all of Mount Joy.

though they indicated agreement that the car be replaced soon.

Arrangements have been made to sweep borough streets on May 3, 4 and 5, using a mechanical sweeper rented for the job.

Approval was given to erect stop signs at the intersection of Henry and Lumber streets.

On May 3, at the May meeting of council, steps are expected to be taken toward codifying borough ordinances. At that time a report of preliminary studies will be made by the Penn Valley Publishers and costs will be discussed.

Friendship Fire company was voted $250 quarterly funds and Florin Fire company was authorized to receive $125.

● Of This 'n That

week was the conducted tour our Libby and I were given Monday afternoon of the Robert Schroll pony stables on Route 230, just east of Mount Joy.

Clarence Auker, who helps to train, ride, drive and feed the ponies, invited us to visit the stable, knowing well the deep interest our youngest daughter has in anything which pertains to a horse!

We were introduced to "Ginger" and her adorable, baby colt, "Peppy," whose coal-black coat was as soft as velvet. We met "Lark" and "Lyric," a friendly little roan mare, and even "Cleo," the donkey, who looked a little queer, having been "shorn" that day of her white winter coat when the men came to shear the sheep in a pasture adjoining the stables.

We admired the two beautiful stud ponies, "Midnight" and "Royal Jet." Only that day a full-size, full-color replica of "Royal Jet" had been mounted on top of the stables, and stood resplendent in the spring sunshine.

In the barn across the road we got to see the shiny bridles, halters and harness for the ponies, each set hanging neatly on a peg with its owner's name above it. Libby was especially interested in the peg with ten light tan pony halters hanging on it! She also loved the pair of bridles with red and white headbands and spark-

CAR & BUS COLLIDE

Thirty Donegal high school students escaped injury when a school bus and automobile collided at New Haven and Donegal Streets here at 3:35 p.m. Thursday, March 29.

Police Chief Bruce Kline said Alwin K. Schwage, of Mount Joy R1, traveling east on Donegal Street, pulled out into the intersection and collided with a school bus operated by Paul S. Weiser Jr., 100 Columbia Ave. The bus was transporting pupils home from the high school.

ling rosettes on either side.

And the carts . . . and the sleighs . . . and the wagons! There are eight carts, two sleighs and four wagons, shiny and sleek and ready for whatever the occasion demands. One wagon already has its red, white and blue crepe paper decorations for the Memorial Day parade!

What a feast of pony paraphernalia! And what fun it will be this summer when Mr. Schroll and Mr. Auker take those ponies, carts and wagons on an occasional appearance to the park, to take wide-eyed and eager children for a drive or a ride!

Seventh Grade Talent Show

The first half of the Seventh Grade Talent Show was held in the auditorium of the Donegal high school annex Friday afternoon, April 2, during the regular Assembly period. The Annex dance band played several selections before and after the assembly. Joe Wivell served as announcer.

The following acts were presented: Donna Young, a monologue; Linda Weidman, baton exhibition; June Kreider, piano solo; Kathy McGlynn, dance; Sandra Stahl, monologue; Lou Ann Hess, marimba solo; Donna Robinson, piano solo; Deborah Sager and Yvonne Neideigh, surfing skit; Norma Gutshall and Jean Kendig, saxophone duet; Barbara Rohrbaugh, tap dance; Debora Roberts and Suzanne O'Connor, tumbling routine.

The results of this first-half of seventh grade, and the second-half to be held on Friday, April 23, will be tallied together and one winning act selected.

Railroad Tour Of Susquehanna

Lancaster Countains will have their first opportunity in over 25 years to tour the Susquehanna River area from Harrisburg to the Chesapeake Bay when the Lancaster Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society operates their Spring Tour of the Susquehanna River Valley on Sunday, April 25. The trip will include a ride down the picturesque Columbia and Port Deposit branch from Columbia to Perryville, as well as a ride along the river passing through Marietta, Rowenna and Bainbridge, over lines that have not seen passenger service for over 30 years.

The special train will leave Lancaster at 9:30 a.m., and proceed to Columbia and then continue northward passing Chickies Rock, Marietta and Bainbridge continuing to Harrisburg. There, the train will cross the river to Lemoyne and follow the Low Grade Freight Line back to Columbia, where the train will continue down along the river over the old Columbia and Port Deposit Branch passing Washington

Boro, Safe Harbor and Holtwood. After a picture stop at Conowingo, the train will continue to Perryville and Wilmington, Del., where a tour will be made of the railroad car shops. Return to Lancaster will be made by way of Philadelphia and the Main Line.

Brush Fire Sets Barn Blaze

Sparks from a burning brush pile ignited and destroyed a barn Saturday morning, April 3, on the Chares H. Zerphey farm near Milton Grove.

Five fire companies responded to a call about 10:30 a.m., including Mount Joy, town and MaygTFS Florin, Rheems, Elizabethtown and Maytown and prevented a high wind from spreading fire to the Zerphey home.

Lost with the barn were 12 tons of straw, 3 tons of oats, and a ton of hay. Twenty heifers, two ponies and two calves were driven from the barn by Zerphey and neighbors.

Also removed from the barn were several pieces of farm machinery.

Zerphey, who suffered minor burns while fighting the fire, told firemen that the fire started from a shower of sparks from a brush fire he had started in the orchard.
