GUARD SHEARS AND SCISSORS

You can damage good scissors and shears if you use them to cut paper, cardboard, heavy cord, and wire, reminds Ruth Ann Nine, Penn State extension clothing specialist. Such cutting will dull the blades and cause them to come out of adjustment. Avoid cutting over pins, and never use shears or scissors for prying — you can bend or break the points. Keep cutting tools away from moisture and keep them clean; wipe with a soft cloth before and after use and they will be free of dust and lint.

EGGS RICH IN NUTRIENTS

Planning a daily menu with eggs in a prominent position will add a rich quota of essential body-building nutrients to the family diet, points out Louise Hamilton, Penn State extension foods and nutrition specialist. Eggs have a wealth of top-class proteins, and are outstanding in thiamine and riboflavin — two of the B. vitamins. Iron and other minerals and vitamins A and D add to the food value of eggs.
