GEORGE L. SIMMONS

George L. Simmons, 70, of 26 S. Locust St., Marietta, died Thursday, June 3, at his home after a brief illness.

Born in Marietta, and a lifelong resident of that community, he was a son of the late William L. and Annie Sargent Simmons. He retired in August, 1962, from Olmsted Air Force Base, at Middletown; and was a member of the United Church of Christ, Marietta; and the Pioneer Fire Co., also of Marietta.

In addition to his wife, the former Ruth E. Sharp, surviving are these sons and daughters: Benjamin, Baltimore, Md.; Harold, Marietta; Robert, Hummelstown; Pearl, wife of Owen Myers, Elizabethtown; Leroy, Marietta; and Beatrice, at home.

Also surviving are 15 grandchildren, five great grandchildren, a brother, Lyle Simmons, Columbia; and a half brother, William Simmons, Landisville.

Funeral services were held Sunday, June 6, from the United Church of Christ, of Marietta. Burial was made in the Marietta cemetery.

ELIZABETH H. SAYRE

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Sayre, 85, widow of the Rev. Woodburn J. Sayre, 126 Main St., Salunga, died Sunday, June 6, at 11:30 p.m. in the General hospital after a prolonged illness.

Her husband, who was a former pastor of the Salunga Methodist church, died in 1954.

Born in Salunga, a daughter of the late Henry and Fannie Herr Hiestand, she was a member of the Chiques Methodist church.

Surviving are one son, the Rev. Charles A. Sayre, D.D., Ph.D., Asbury Park, N. J.; two grandchildren, three brothers, Simon Hiestand, all of Salunga; and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Green, of Lancaster; and Mrs. Ritner Menagh, Wayne.

Funeral services were held from the Chiques Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, June 9 and burial was made in the Salunga Mennonite cemetery.

life and was a link between the present and the past.

On "Tour Day" the hostesses wore old-time dresses, and the Lichtys' son, John, a member of the Lancaster Fencibles, wore his uniform to lend color and interest to the home.

We admired the lovely old things, and especially a hand-crocheted canopy for a high four-poster bed. Mrs. Lichty had crocheted it herself, and was proud that it was all in one piece, even including four 12-inch-wide strips that hung down alongside each post.

The bedspread, a popcorn stitch in crocheted blocks, she had also made.

Asked how she had found time to do so much fancywork — crocheting, needlepoint, intricate embroidery, etc., Mrs. Lichty said, "The winter evenings were long. We had no radio, TV, or movies, so we entertained ourselves with needlework."

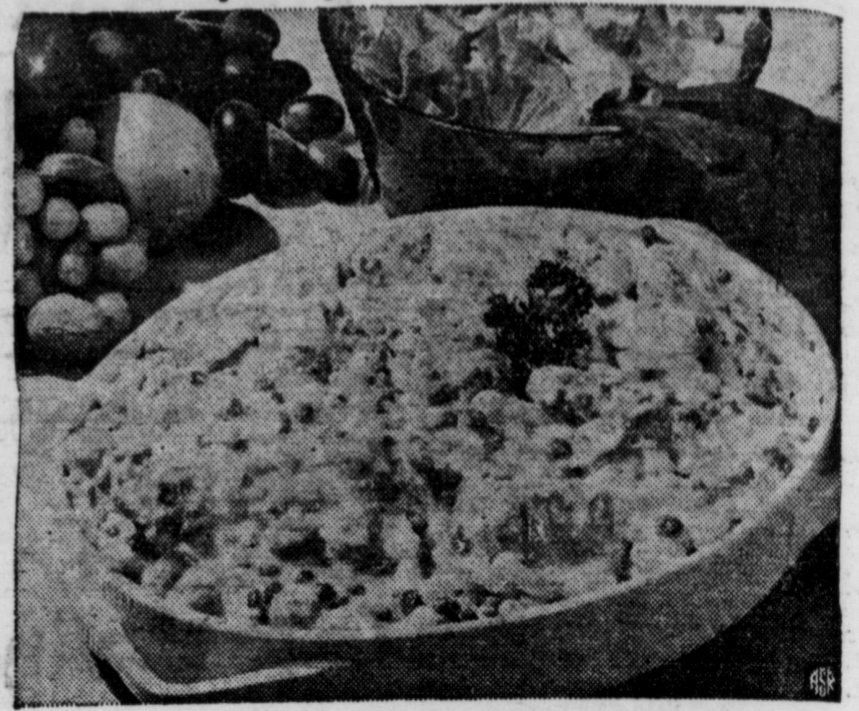

It was a rare privilege to get to see the Lichty home. Not only is it full of priceless "antiques" and "collectors' items," to use the terms of the present day, but also it preserves the 'feel' and the look of a long ago day, probably because of the unbroken line of four generations that have called it "home."

Let Contract For Big Generator

Busy-Day Chicken Dinner

A robust meal cooked in a single skillet is a "dream of a dish" for busy days, especially if planned around the family favorite—chicken. Macaroni, mushrooms, peas and seasonings are cooked right along with the chicken in an ample skillet. Then at serving time the sauce, made rich and smooth with evaporated milk, is blended in for a flavorsome finish.

Chicken Skillet Dinner

- |                                       |   |
|---------------------------------------|---|
| 3 tablespoons flour                   | 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peas, separated  |
| 1 teaspoon paprika                    | 2 cups water                            |
| 1 teaspoon salt                       | 1 teaspoon basil                        |
| 1/2 teaspoon pepper                   | 1/2 teaspoon salt                       |
| 2 1/2 to 3 lb. frying chicken, cut up | 1 tall can evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups) |
| 1/2 cup shortening                    | 2 tablespoons prepared mustard          |
| 1 pkg. (7 oz.) elbow macaroni         | 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce         |
| 1 can (4 oz.) button mushrooms        | 1 tablespoon lemon juice                |

Mix flour, paprika, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Roll chicken pieces in mixture to coat thoroughly. In large skillet melt shortening over medium heat. Fry chicken, turning pieces frequently until golden brown on all sides. Add uncooked macaroni, mushrooms and liquid, peas, water, basil and the 1/2 teaspoon salt; stir to blend. Bring to boil over high heat; reduce heat to simmer, cover and cook 15 to 20 minutes, or until chicken and macaroni are tender, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Blend in evaporated milk, mustard, Worcestershire sauce and lemon juice. Stir over medium heat until heated thoroughly. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

unit will begin in June, '66, and it is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1968. Brunner Island will then have a net generating capability of 1,472,000 kilowatts—greater than all of PP&L's steam-electric generating stations in 1964.

Brunner Island's No. 1 unit, completed in 1961, is capable of generating 337,000 kilowatts per hour. The No. 2 unit, now under construction, will be placed in service this year with a generating capability of 370,000 kilowatts.

The No. 3 unit will consist of a tandem compound, four flow turbine and single generator is that the stationary parts will be liquid cooled.
