Presbyterian - Home News -

On Tuesday of last week Miss Blanche M. Speer and five residents attended the sessions of the Tenth Annual Short Course on the Organization and Administration of a Home for the Aging held at Chalet Restaurant, Dillsburg, under the leadership of the Rev. Wm. T. Swaim, Jr., Administrator of the Presbyterian Homes of Central Penna. A visit to the Manor Home, Newville, was also enjoyed. On Thursday afternoon over thirty delegates attending the Short Course visited and toured our Home.

Fifteen residents attended the 9th Annual "75 Plus" banquet on Thursday evening which was sponsored by the Mount Joy Jaycees and Joycees. We appreciated the warm hospitality including transportation, as well as delightful entertainment.

Our Visitors for the week: Mrs. H. Bruggeman, Baltimore, Md., for Mrs. Emily Cranford.

Mrs. Annie Davis and daughter, Lancaster, visited the Home.

The Rev. Clarence F. Collins, Pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, and his Mother, Mrs. Glen Collins, of York, for Miss Sarah Emswiler.

Mrs. Dollie Shue, York, for Miss Maude Treadway and Miss Sarah Emswiler.

Mrs. W. A. Sterling and granddaughter Cathy and Carol Forrest, Lancaster, for Miss Carrie Kaufhold.

Mr. and Mrs. Stitt, of Newville, Jim Burchell and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burchell, of Jamestown, N. Dakota, visited and toured the Home.

Mrs. Elva Hershey, Mrs. Ethel Parsons, Lancaster, and Mrs. Dora Frey, Millersville, for Mrs. Wilhelmina Echter-nach.

Mrs. Freeda Huber, Peach Bottom, for Miss Agnes Huber.

Mrs. Mabel Myers spent a few days with Mrs. Louis Chance and family, of Christiana.

Mrs. Sarah Waite spent several days with her sister, Miss Edna Buchanan, in Lancaster.

YOUR LEGISLATOR'S REPORT

Jack B. Horner
 State Representative

House Bill No. 1060 made it illegal to "give directly or indirectly money, goods or other valuable things to a person to induce him to register in a particular party or to change his party enrollment." This was a good bill and I had no difficulty whatsoever in supporting it completely. It was on our third reading calendar on Monday, June 7th and it seemed to me that it should have little trouble, however I was completely wrong. An amendment was offered which would still make it illegal to give money or goods, but "other valuable things" could still be given without violating the law. In short, giving a five dollar bill could result in a jail sentence but the use of influence to get some government handout for a person who doesn't qualify is perfectly all right under the amendments to this bill. The bill as originally drafted would have been a big help in stopping this latter type of activity. However by roll call the amendments were adopted by a vote of 116 to 87. It is interesting to note that the vote was pretty nearly along party lines. Almost all the votes in favor of the watered-down version of the bill were Democratic and almost all votes in favor of keeping the bill in its original form were Republican. I might say that the Lancaster County Republicans all voted against the amendment that would weaken the bill, however the Democratic Representative from Lancaster City, voted in favor of the amendment.

The next day the bill as amended passed the House by a vote of 199 to 5. I voted in its favor on the theory that half a loaf is better than none, however I still feel that the bill as originally drafted was a much better bill than the weakened version that we finally adopted. I note that the above mentioned Democratic Representative from Lancaster City, in his weekly column, gave himself a great deal of credit for voting in favor of the final version of the bill. However nowhere in his column did he mention that he also voted in favor of the amendments which took much of the meaning out of it. It seems to me that if he takes credit for voting in favor of the final version of the bill he should also take credit for voting in favor of the amendments that watered it down.

In short, what we now have is a bill which makes it illegal to offer money or goods to affect a person's registration. This is certainly a step in the right direction, however we had a great opportunity to do something about the improper peddling of political influence. I was very proud and happy that the vast majority of members of my party felt that this problem should be dealt with. However since we are in the minority in the House of Representatives we didn't have sufficient votes override those who felt otherwise

Highway Hypnosis Is Summer Danger

Highway hypnosis is an especially dangerous Summer complaint. What causes it and how can it be combated?

"Monotony, repetition and freedom from distraction are the relaxing factors which often lull motorists into a trance or self-induced hypnosis", warns Edward P. Curran, Safety Director of Kay-stone Automobile Club. "Other factors are sense-dulling Summer heat and humidity, and super highways and turnpikes, that wind through the countryside for hundreds of miles without billboards, stop lights and intersections.

"The car's purring mechanical perfection, the seemingly endless stretches of bright road surfaces, the minimum of grades and curves, the rhythmic pattern of lights at night, also add to the cumulative hypnotic effect. Then come the danger; the driver has ceased to think and be alert and the car literally is driving itself toward an accident.

"What can we do to avoid highway hypnosis?"

"Several simple but very effective things. On long trips motorists should stop at regular, frequent intervals and get from behind the wheel for a cup of coffee or a 'stretch'. If driving alone, the motorist should lower the car windows in order to get or create a breeze, munch candy or chew gum, and turn on the car radio. One must be careful in using the radio, however; commentators and speakers will help to keep the senses alert, but such things as soothing music must be avoided.

"Passengers in a car can be a big help in overcoming the trance-like state of mind by keeping up an interesting flow of conversation. In fact, this is one instance in which back-seat or side-seat driving is highly excusable . . . if it isn't too distracting.

"Summing up, then the motorist can avoid dangerous mental numbness by having a mild curiosity about everything and by employing slight distractions to keep the mind from taking a psychic siesta."

Doctors Learn From Non-Pros

Doctors are willing to learn from non-professionals! There's evidence in a letter to the British Medical Journal from Dr. David C. Langley, who describes a "simple, safe, and sure" method for removing splinters taught him by "an old Dorsetshire hedger":

"A narrow-necked bottle is filled with hot water, and emptied again when the glass is as hot as possible. The neck of the bottle is then placed over the splinter, and as the bottle cools down a partial vacuum is created, thus drawing the splinter towards the surface of the skin. This procedure may be repeated several times, as necessary. The hotter the water, the larger the capacity of the bottle, and the narrower the neck, the greater will be the negative pressure created."

Weather Forecasting Assists P.P.&L.

At PP&L's system operating headquarters, Hazelton, system operator Walter B. Tyndal headquarters, Hazelton, tute report for conditions that can affect PP&L's operations. Institute weather service director is television weatherman, Wally Kinnan.

As part of Pennsylvania Power & Light Company's program of preparing for all kinds of weather conditions, the Company now employs a commercial weather forecaster — the Franklin Institute Weather Center of Philadelphia. It gives PP&L's system operating headquarters in Hazelton two teletyped weather reports each day — one at 5 a.m., the other at 12 noon—reporting conditions at four key locations in the Company's 29-county service area of Central Eastern Pennsylvania.

The 5 a.m. report gives expected temperature, humidity, wind velocity and sky conditions for definite hours of that day. An important benefit is that PP&L's operating personnel can decide to continue work as scheduled for the day or to quickly re-adjust schedules to changing needs.

The noon report includes a 5-day forecast, giving detailed weather information for the remainder of the forecast day and the two days following, and a general weather trend for two additional days. The Institute also provides emergency reports on sudden changes, enabling PP&L to quickly beef up field forces when necessary.

Weather, both bad and good, concerns PP&L. For example, hot, humid weather can mean a huge, new peak in power requirements as air conditioning installations go into high gear in thousands of plants and offices.

Public Warned To Nip Swindles

Plots to raid your pocket-book are on the increase and the best thing to do is recognizing that you, too, can be "taken."

Toady's most common and most successful schemes, other than medical, include debt consolidating and offers of something for nothing, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine, advises, "Keep your guard up."

One swindle which continues to sweep across country concentrates on elderly widows is sometimes called the "FBI Agent Hoax." Don't fall for it if you get a phone call from someone claiming to be an FBI agent, a bank examiner or a bank security officer asking for your 'help'. Usually the bait is that someone at a bank is involved in embezzlement and the person calling says they need help in catching him. Helping invariably involves withdrawing several thousand dollars and turning it over to someone.

All-over lace design of fillet diamonds and a spiderweb yoke completes this charming little party dress. Easy crochet with Pattern No. 1004 and the instructions for making in sizes 2, 4 and 6.

Our New Spring and Summer Needlework Book containing actual patterns and a free coupon which is good for any pattern of your choice is 50 cents.
