FROZEN FRUITS

Serve frozen fruits as soon as they are thawed. They will look and taste much better than if held after thawing, say food specialists at the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

YOUR LEGISLATOR'S REPORT

Edwin D. Eshleman

The former Democratic Speaker of the House of Representatives—The Honorable Hiram G. Andrews — an elderly gentleman for whom I have the utmost respect — sends me a periodic newsletter, he writes, called "DISPELLING THE FOG." I want to share with you the first three paragraphs of one of his most recent newsletters:

'Pennsylvania's General Assembly should be a forum in which ideas contend like gladiators. Members of the General Assembly, members of the body politic, and editors — particularly editors— should be the fountainheads from which ideas flow.

Since the beginning of this session of the General Assembly the Democratic high command and its spokesmen quite evidently have not been relying upon ideas. The big chief (Frank Smith, Chairman of Philadelphia Democratic Party) who dictates Democratic Party legislative policy, sometimes by proxy, evidently suffers from a wheeler-dealer complex. The Democratic Governor, Frank Smith, Chairman of Philadelphia Democrat Party) who uses Philadelphia as a base, apparently has convinced himself that political patronage is the salt that keeps party action pure and undefiled.

It would seem that for some time the Democratic Governor who rules from Philadelphia, says, doubtless by proxy, to the Republican Governor who rules at Harrisburg: "Let's talk turkey. You give me this: I'll give you that." The Democratic Governor doubtless relies upon his ability to outsmart the Republican Governor."

Please bear in mind the above was written by a Democrat and a former Speaker of the House of Representatives who has a total of 24 years service, including 4 years as Speaker of the House.
