Donegal Schools To Open On Tuesday, August 31

When one thinks of the things Mount Joy does not have and should have an Historical association or society is one of them.

The community is rich in historical information and sooner or later a Historical group probably will see fit to organize and to probe into some of the many possibilities in the area.

For instance, someone asked "Why is the section between Mount Joy and Donegal school called 'Waynesboro'?"

It's more than a little possible that a little work might uncover something very very interesting.

However, for the time being there is no Mount Joy "Historical Society" as an organization of the people of the community who perhaps have the best grip on the situation.

Such a group is probably a very good idea but a bit premature at this time.

Latest "rumor" is that the new Route 230 bypass may follow a route a couple hundred feet north of the one originally mentioned.

Instead of running south of the beacon light, rumor says it will go "north" of the light.

And, if you want to speculate on the subject of bypass location, we'll tell you that there are those who are now "betting" that the present 4-lane section will not be used.

The theory advanced is that the bypass might just be "cut through" new territory — probably north of the present four-lane location.

More about streets and roads — The Mount Joy area (in Donegal Heights) is getting a new street. A new street is being cut through the development and will have an entrance onto Marietta avenue.

One day soon, the Mount Joy Library Center will have a new and ingenious piece of equipment which will add a great deal to the service which it can give to the people of this community.

If, for instance, you find a page of reference material which you would like to keep, the machine will make you a copy — in about 15 seconds — and you can take the information home with you. With the machine will come a micro-film reader (Turn to page 5)

The schools of the Donegal Union School district will open for the 1965-66 school year on Aug. 31. All pupils will report to their respective buildings at the usual time. This will be a day of school and school cafeterias will be in operation.

Bus schedules as well as the schedule for opening and closing times will appear in this newspaper next week.

At the close of school in June 1965 there were 2817 pupils enrolled in the schools of the district, distributed as follows: elementary 1702 and high school 1115.

Anticipated enrollment for 1965-66 is: elementary 1807 and high school 1138, an increase in elementary of 105 and high school of 23.

The Marietta Elementary Building is too small to house all the pupils from Marietta Borough. Therefore, the entire 6th grade and some first grade pupils will be transported to Maytown where there presently is room for two additional sixth grade classes and one additional first grade class. These rooms were made available by the completion of the Grandview addition last year.

The school district has had two additions and 18 changes in the teaching staff making a total of 20 members elected to begin teaching in the Donegal schools this fall.

Accepts College Teaching Post

J. Terry Zeller of Pinkerton Rd., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zeller, has accepted an appointment to the Department of History, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Arkansas as instructor of Western Civilization, according to Dr. Robert F. Krueh, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Zeller, a 1961 graduate of Donegal high school, took his B.S. degree from Millersville State College in 1964 and has this month completed requirements for the degree of Master of Arts in history at the University of Arkansas.

Zeller holds memberships in the Lancaster County Historical Society, the American Historical Association and the American Association of University Professors.

Two Little Girls Accosted by Man

Mount Joy police are probing two reports of improper conduct by a man who accosted two little girls in the borough Tuesday shortly before noon.

The cases were within a few minutes of each other and not more than 2 blocks apart. The girls were eight and nine years of age.

Police said that the man stopped his car and attempted to talk with the children. Indecent exposure was indicated.

The reading of newspapers, according to speech authorities, is one of the greatest aids to the increase of one's vocabulary.

Registration For School Children

All pupils who reside in the Donegal school district should be registered before the opening day of school.

This should be done on or before August 27, since school opens August 31.

Pupils who attended any of the schools of the district last year or who enrolled for kindergarten last spring are registered. All other pupils should be registered in the office of the school where they will attend. All school offices are open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:00 noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. except the Washington Elementary. Pupils for this school should register at the Grandview School.

Parents should bring the following records when they register their children:

1. Report card or transfer card from last school attended.
2. Birth Certificate
3. Vaccination Certificate
4. Name, location, and district of school last attended.

Teens Stage Water Show

A crowd estimated to be 1200 people saw a group of about 35 local boys and girls stage a sparkling water show at the Mount Joy Lions Club Swimming Pool Sunday evening.

Complete with girls, clowns and acrobatics, the show was staged by the Teenage Club with Patty Phillips, Joyce Beamenderfer, Lora Lee Foley, Johnny Hart, Gary Holtzman, John Harnish and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hendricks in charge.

Using their own lighting, musical and scenery effects, the performance is booked to be given again on Labor Day at the Olmsted AFB Officers Club pool in Middletown.

Boys and girls taking part included: Janie Heilig, Roxanne Heisey, Debbie Hostetter, Debbie Johnson, Lynn Madara, Mary Ann Hallgren,

Library Owns 3,400 Books

The Mount Joy Library Center now owns approximately 3,400 volumes, it was announced to the directors Monday night as they held their quarterly meeting.

Harold Jenkins, librarian of the Lancaster Free Public Library, presented the local unit with a complete inventory of its books and made detailed explanations of the progress of stocking the local shelves.

He was very flattering in his evaluation of the progress which has been made in a few short months and said that the basic material necessary to serve the public is now "on the shelves."

In addition to those books which are totally owned by the local organization, the library has a large number of library books from Lancaster which are housed here.

And, of course, books from almost any library in the area (in the U.S., as a matter of fact) are available on order when and if needed.

A circulation report made by Mrs. James Roberts, president, showed that more than 4,100 books were loaned during the past quarter.

Foundry Molders Say, - 'Too Hot'

It was hot for most everyone the early part of this week.

But — it was TOO hot for the molders at two Mount Joy foundries.

Men who work in both foundries reported for work on Tuesday morning but after reviewing the weather reports "knocked off" and found something cooler to do.

Temperatures in the foundries reach a high level every day and summers are "rough."

Tuesday, after Monday's heat, was more than the "sand slingers" could even consider.

ON DEAN'S LIST

Richard W. Sloan, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Walter Sloan, south Market street, has been placed on the Deans' Honor Roll for the semester recently completed at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science.

To achieve this status, the student must have an average of 85% or better.

Richard will enter his second year at the college this fall, majoring in pharmacy.
