

10,000th Electric Home Is Wired

Pennsylvania Power and Light Company has announced its 10,000th electric home heating customer in Central Eastern Pennsylvania. Joining the swing to electric heating is the Quentin E. Getz family of Mechanicsburg.

The Getzes moved into their new home late last month. He teaches problems of democracy and is athletic director at Mechanicsburg Area high school.

The history of modern, flameless electric heat for homes in PP&L's service area has been one of phenomenal growth — from 787 just four years ago to 10,000 homes at present, and expectations are that the 12,000 mark will be reached by the end of this year. Further, P. P. & L. projections now call for at least 50,000 electrically heated homes in the area by 1970.

Sales of electric space heating in industrial and commercial categories are also experiencing solid growth, the Company reported. As of August 1, electric heat was installed in 205 industrial-type buildings and 630 offices, schools, churches, restaurants, stores, motels and other commercial establishments in Central Eastern Penna.

Contributing to this increase in all PP&L electric heating categories has been the program of eight rate reductions totaling $13.5 million in the past four years which lowered by 41 percent the cost of heating electrically. The Company hopes to continue this incentive program by reducing rates by an additional $7.5 million by 1970.

● Of This 'n That

(From page 1)

majority of their collection, displaying them to advantage. What a sight that will be!

Meat platters — and music "platters" — what interesting hobbies people have!

The New York World's Fair will soon be a thing of the past. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bair and young sons and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Forney were among those who last week took advantage of a bus trip to have "just one more look".

Also in New York City last week were Mrs. Reuben

Fellenbaum and Mrs. Pauligan State University at Lansing, Robert is a junior at Temple University, and a daughter, Jackie, now Mrs. Paul Benner, a graduate of Penn State, is doing work toward a degree in library science at Rutgers!

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Chunko, Columbia avenue, are among those parents in Mount Joy this fall who have two members of the family in college. Shelby, who graduated from Donegal high school in June, is a freshman at Penn State, majoring in psychology. Tom, married and living in Lancaster, is a junior at Millersville State college, in addition to holding down a full time job.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Staley, Park Avenue, also qualify for this distinction, as their twins, Jean and Joan, are seniors in college in North Carolina.

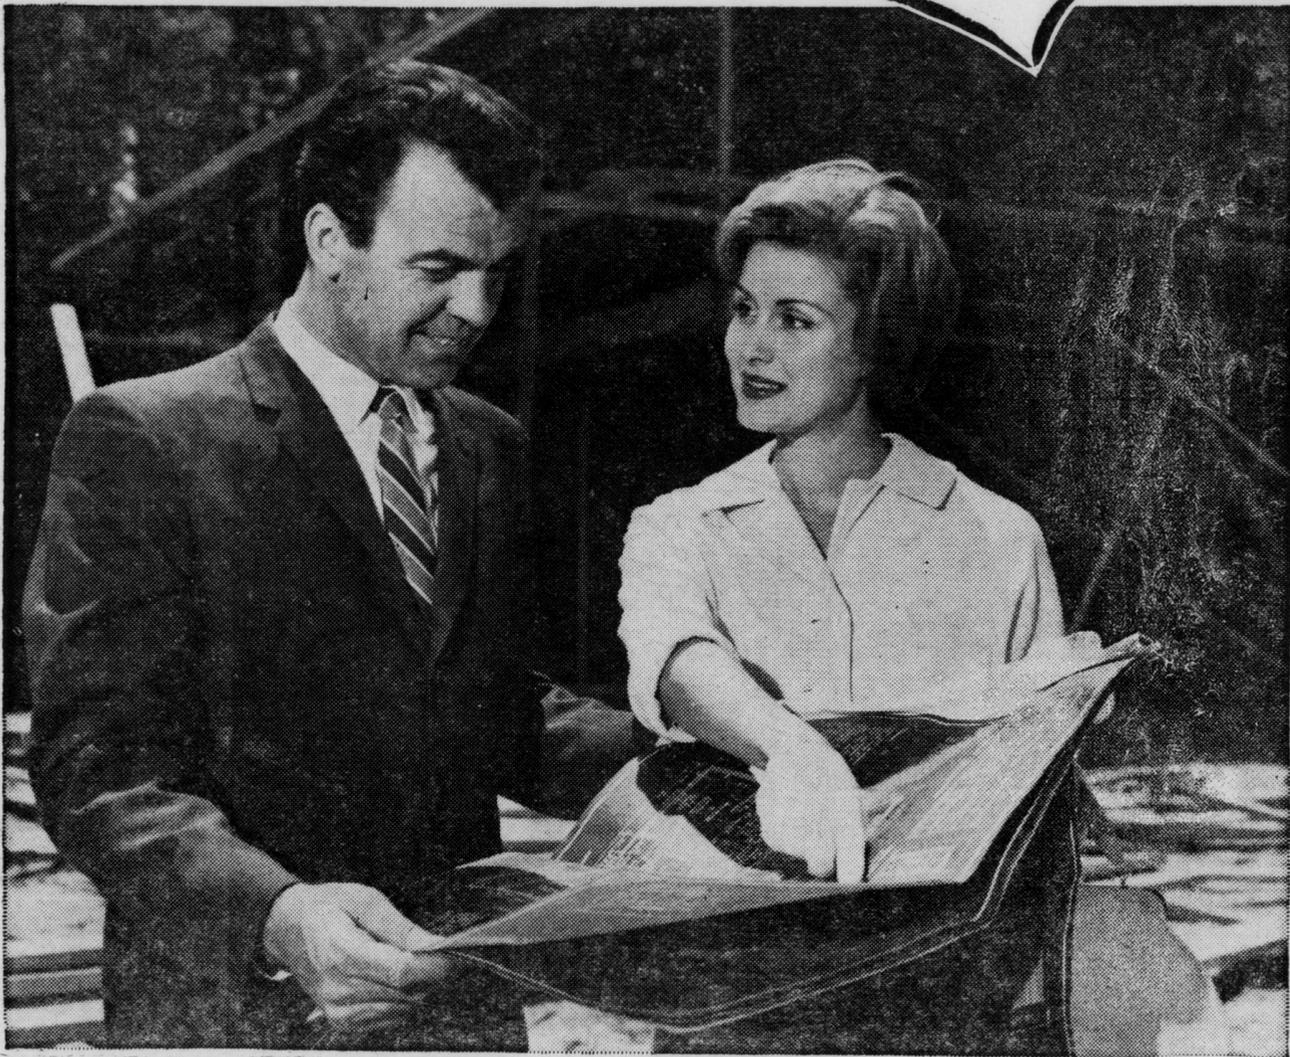

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Mariner, Longenecker Road, are even more honored: Jeff, who received a degree from Penn State in June, is doing graduate work in physics at Mich-

Deaf Man Perfects Midget Transistor Hearing Aid

If you can hear people talk and can't make out the words clearly, then this will be your answer. An extremely small hearing aid using a tiny energized unit, has been perfected by a man who himself is hard of hearing and has been for over 10 years. With his new aid, even whispers are crystal clear. If interested it is suggested you write HEARING, 32 E. 9th St., Erie, Pa. You will receive full information at no cost or obligation whatsoever. —Adv.

Patronize Our Advertisers

"Do you mean we can't have a chimney if we put in electric heat?"

"No, dear. I said we don't need a chimney with electric heat, because it's flameless. You don't need an escape route for smoke or fumes as you do with flame-type heating systems."

"We can have a fireplace, then, with a chimney if we want one?"

"Of course, dear, but more important, we'll have all the benefits of modern electric living . . . it's so clean, comfortable, convenient and space-saving. There are no flames, no soot, no fumes, no odors. Best of all, electric heat is so economical."

Join the better than 10,000 PP&L-served families already enjoying clean, flameless electric home heating. See your builder or your Reddy Kilowatt Recommended Home Heating Dealer (listed in the Yellow Pages).

