would drive their carriages up the 'river road' on a Sunday afternoon just to see it".

Fifteen rooms it had, we were told, and it was a center of activity for many years.

As we looked at the near-rubble of its previous beauty, and saw the rows of dilapidated furniture sitting around everywhere in the yard, we were depressed. We were watching the passing of an era, it seemed. Or perhaps we were listening to its death knell.

And yet—a "daisy and button" sugar bowl, encrusted with dirt and dust, was purchased by a Maytown woman and carried home proudly to join a beautiful collection of some 80 other pieces. It will shine with renewed lustre and have many pleasant years yet, we know!

And the deacon's bench—who knows? Its new owner will doubtless have it refinished to grace her lovely home, perhaps to be more cherished than ever before!

So maybe the past glory of the Shank home will be reborn in hundreds of homes in Lancaster County and elsewhere, and continue to give pleasure to present and future generations as it did to past ones!

Have you seen the "Chrysanthemum Show" at the Hershey Gardens? If not, it is definitely worth a trip to our "chocolate" neighbor town.

In the warm October sunshine Sunday afternoon, hundreds of people were enjoying the riot of color. There were gold blossoms, tones of red and orange, bronze, yellow, and white, in all sizes and kinds of chrysanthemums, from the tiny 'button' varieties to the large, regal blooms.

The beds were solid masses of color—never have we seen a prettier sight! The roses were still beautiful, too, with their late-season blossoms, tall, dark green bushes. Against the background of the green grass and many evergreen trees, the hillside was truly lovely.

We have two families to add this week to the "two people in college" group! Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Eshleman, Mount Joy R2, have that honor. Son Robert is a freshman at McPherson College, McPherson, Kansas, and daughter Sue is a sophomore at Juniata College.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brubaker, Mount Joy R1, have two sons in college now. Harold is a freshman at Delaware Valley College, Doylestown, and Kenneth, studying at Gos-

Only recently retired from this honor group are Mr. and Mrs. John Zeller, Pinkerton Road, whose two sons, Gary and Terry, have just completed a combined total of twelve years in college, five years of them simultaneously! Terry is now teaching in the history department of the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, and Gary heads the music department at a college in N. Carolina!

We have had many reports of the fall foliage: "Never lovelier," said one family who took a picnic up into Perry County on Sunday. "A blaze of color" said another, who drove her Volkswagen pike on Saturday. "Beautiful, for several miles on the Turn-but the peak will come a little later," said a Mount Joy couple who have just returned from a trip to Virginia, during which they drove the entire length of the Skyline Drive in Shenandoah Nation-

Be that as it may, it is hard to find prettier maples anywhere than those at the Fellenbaum corner, south Market and West Donegal streets, right here in Mount Joy.

Home Fire

In addition to damage to the house and some $2,000 worth of furniture, antiques valued between $3,000 and $4,000 were damaged.
