Girl Scout

The girls were in good spirit, they had plenty of food, and everyone was well and healthy. Mrs. Gibble admitted later that she was glad her husband was in camp but declared that he was not particularly needed.

Despite the snow, the girls were "chased" out doors three or four times each day, so, as Mrs. Gibble explained, "they wouldn't go stirr crazy". And, actually, as one little girl explained later, "we had a ball."

Although provisions held out well, the group did use some dehydrated provisions — meat, beans, ham, potatoes, etc.

They were living in part of the building known to Girl Scout campers as "Ferndale Lodge" and the only real concession made to the situation was to blot out as much of the wind and draft as possible.

"We put mattresses against the window and hung blankets to make things as cozy as possible," Mrs. Gibble explained.

But, the electric fry pan was what the party of 13 ate out of as cooking equipment. There was plenty of firewood for the Mount Joy group although another set of campers from Lancaster in another building was having a shortage of that vital supply item.

The only tie with the "outside" world was the electric line, which fed the electric fry pan, the transistor radio and a telephone line which terminated at the caretaker's home, some distance away.

As far as the 12 and 13 year old youngsters (seventh and eighth graders, were concerned, there was no particular concern, there was

Deaths

OSCAR S. PENNELL

Oscar S. Pennell, 82, of 25822 E. Eleventh St., San Bernardino, Calif., native of Lancaster County, and former resident of Mount Joy, died Sunday, Jan. 30 at 2:25 p.m. in the Community hospital, San Bernardino.

Born in Mount Joy, Oct. 8, 1883, a son of the late John and Amelia Shickley Pennell, he resided in San Bernardino for the past 22 years and was employed at the Morton Air Force Base until his retirement in 1957. He and his wife, Effie Anna Conrad Pennell, observed their 62nd wedding anniversary recently.

He was a former member of the First Church of God, Lancaster. He was a sergeant in Co. K. National Guard, serving on the Mexican Border in 1916-17. He was a member of the National Association Retired Civil Employees, and was vice president of the Penna. Society.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by these children, Clara, wife of Earl W. Gerhart; Elmer; Warren; Lloyd; and Ruth, wife of Lewis Baker, all of Lancaster; Verna, wife of George Kohler, of Bloomington, Calif.; 30 grand children and 49 great grandchildren. He was the last of his immediate family.

JOHN SMITH

John C. Smith, 86, York, formerly of Rheems, died on Saturday, Jan. 29, at Baily's Nursing and Convalescing Home, 320 S. Market Street, Elizabethtown, where he had been a guest for the past year.

Born in York county, a son of the late Ephraim and Susan Baker Smith, he was a member of Millennial Dawn Religious group. He was a retired blacksmith and wheelwright. His wife, the former Anna Mary Burkholder, died in 1927.

Surviving are a daughter, Ruth, wife of C. Ray Strickler, Hershey, and a son, John C. Jr., Elizabethtown; 13 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

no particular emergency. Probably, there was more of an emergency in the homes of their parents back in Mt. Joy.

One thing which did "worry" the children, however, was the lack of information about school on Monday. Not realizing the full extent of the blizzard, it was not as apparent to the campers as it was to those at home that there would be no classes on Monday.

When — via the transistor radio — the girls learned that Donegal schools would be closed, all was happiness again.

Decision to leave camp finally came when it became known that additional bad weather possibly was on its way to southeastern Penna. That news meant "get out."

Arrangements were made to evacuate. Olmsted Air Force Base provided the helicopter and Monday morning the party — including Lancaster campers — walked about a mile to a farm field, but at the last minute, plans were changed.

The plane is supposed to carry fewer adults, but because several passengers were smaller people, the plane lifted a troupe of 25 out of the woods and in 15 minutes they were at the police headquarters, met by Lee Bates, James Heilig and Gerald Sheetz.

None would admit that they were "scared" by the plane ride. Not one child or a single adult ever had been in a helicopter before.

YOUR LEGISLATOR'S REPORT

Sharman L. Hill,
State Representative

It was my privilege to attend the Penna. Farm Show on the opening day. This Show was indeed a tribute to Pennsylvania's progress and especially pleasing to the residents of Lancaster County. Once again our good friends and neighbors made it possible for all counties to express pride in being a resident of the Garden Spot.

Lancaster County Exhibitors had 734 winners, 34 more blue awards than in 1965; we have every right to be proud of our people. The Exhibitors from our county are doing much to make it possible for all of us to enjoy successful living. Congratulations to all the participants and best wishes for even more success in the future.

The Annual Governor's Conference On Traffic Safety was recently held in Harrisburg. Once again Lancaster County was recognized for some outstanding accomplishments. Five recipients from our county received the Governor's Award "for Outstanding Contribution to Traffic Safety". Those honored were: William Z. Getz, Inc.; Lamper - Strasburg high school Safety League, Lancaster New Era, New Holland Machine Co., and the Quarryville Sun-Ledger. Congratulations and accept my thanks for your fine work in this important field of traffic safety.

The State of the Commonwealth Message was delivered by Governor William W. Scranton before a joint session of the General Assembly in the House of Representatives on Monday, January 24, 1966. This was the greatest message of progress and hope ever delivered in the history of Pennsylvania.

Never before was it possible for any Governor to report such progress toward full employment, a booming economy, education on its way to becoming the best in the Nation, protection for our Natural resources, a highway program which will help all 67 counties, and the great spirit of confidence and dedication of Pennsylvanians.

Speeches of the nature given by our Governor are not possible without leadership and cooperation. Whether or not we all agree with the Governor in everything he does, one fact remains, he proved to be the much needed leader we needed for our state. All of us could not agree that the House and Senate did everything possible to point the success yardstick in the proper direction, but we must admit that most of the General Assembly gallantly assumed responsibility and answered the call in the affirmative.

We would do well if each of us would think of Pennsylvania's plight of a few

All were allowed to bring with them a "pillow case" stuffed with belongings) or a ditty bag. Mrs. Gibble laughed, "The girls tried to wear about all the clothes they took."

However, much of their gear was left behind, including the Gibble automobile.

Tuesday night no one was willing to venture a guess as to when the property could be retrieved.

If anyone was worse for the "once-in-a-lifetime" adventure, Mrs. Gibble did not know of it. The only hint of ill health was one of her own children. "An upset stomach. Too much chocolate," she explained laconically.

years ago, review what has happened in a few short years, compare Pennsylvania with any other state, take a good look about us, then honestly answer if we would like to change Pennsylvania's Progress and standards with any others.

With the help of our citizens, continued good leadership, my hopes are high for lives to be enjoyed by our children and our children's children.

AMP Shows Gain 7th Straight Year

The year 1965 was the seventh consecutive one of new highs in sales and earnings for AMP Inc., Whittaker, chairman of the board, said last week in a preliminary report to shareholders. Sales for 1965 topped the $100 million mark for the first time in the company's history.

Estimated combined sales of AMP Inc., subsidiaries & Pamcor, Inc. (an affiliate) increased some 21 percent in 1965 to approximately $110,900,000 compared to $91,676,334 in 1964.

Combined net income for 1965 is estimated at $12,450,000, or approximately $2.05 on the 6,074,702, Endorsed Shares outstanding at the end of 1965, an increase of some 28 percent over 1964's $9,722,853 or $1.60 per share in the 6,067,045 Endorsed Shares outstanding at the end of that year.

Whittaker pointed out that the backlog of unfilled orders remained at a high level and is estimated at $22,900,000 at year-end 1965, compared to $18,900,000 for year end '64.

Discussing the outlook for 1966, the 25th anniversary year of the formation of the company, Whittaker said MP's future, both immediate and long term, looks as bright as it ever has. "While this year's results will depend to some extent on general economic conditions, we expect it to be a year of good AMP growth."

AMP Incorporated is a leading producer of solderless electric terminals and devices to electric wires, and also produces multiple and coaxial connectors, programming systems, capacitor and transformer products, and other electric components.
