who would not admit at this point that these schools will, in the not too distant future, become community colleges.

The building people already are viewing designs for the vo-tech schools with an eye to using them as class rooms.

Location of such a community college (a Junior College, if you please) in Mount Joy would be a real feather.

If you know anyone who has ANY connection with the vo-tech school, talk Mount Joy as a location.

much a part of life in Mount Joy for many, many years. "Manda" has just carried on the tradition which her husband had established.

Dozens of antique glass candy jars line the top shelves of the store. Customers have been trying to buy THEM constantly for years, but they just aren't for sale!

Neither is an old-fashioned tobacco cutter, a cast iron coal stove in the "backroom" of the store, an old-fashioned rocking chair, a blackboard, or, in fact, any of the other quaint, old-time objects sitting around here and there.

"Manda's" is a bit of the past lingering on into the present. Penny candy stores are all too few in this modern day.

But at least Mount Joy's children and grandchildren will have memories of one to cherish, and that is good.

In this day of rush and hurry, when things have been speeded up almost beyond recognition, it is refreshing to stand in the background and watch "Manda's" little customers, oblivious of time, deliberating on whether it shall be red or black licorice.

And it is heart-warming to see "Manda's" infinite patience with them, as she, too, ignores the passing of time and waits for that last decision:

"And a red gumdrop, please."

Spring will SOON be here. Tuesday was "Fasnacht Day" Wednesday marked the beginning of the Lenten season. Next Tuesday is March 1st.

And Daniel Brubaker, of Poplar Street, brought us a beautiful "bouquet" of pussy-willows last week! They are fat and furry, and the sight of them reminds us that "it can't be long now!"

school administrator of burdensome detail."

The entire text of the resolution, which covers three separate details of vital school business is as follows: "WHEREAS Mr. Beahm has tendered his resignation from the position of Supervising Principal of the Donegal Union School District, to be effective at the end of the current school year;

"BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of School Directors of the Donegal Union School District accepts Mr. Beahm's resignation with great regret, recognizing that the citizens of the District will thus be deprived of the conscientious, capable, dedicated, energetic and effective leadership which has been so largely responsible for bringing the school system of the District to its present state of excellence; and

"BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of School Directors, in order to continue its commitment to the pursuit of excellence, sets for itself the objective of choosing as the new chief school administrator the most capable qualified person who can be found and employed within limits of fiscal responsibility; and that, in order to assure attainment of this objective, the Board of School Directors of the Donegal Union School District solicits applications from all interested, capable qualified employees of the District and, in addition, from any other interested, capable and qualified persons; and

"BE IT RESOLVED further that, in order to accelerate the rate of growth of excellence in education, the Board intends to elect an administrative assistant in charge of business affairs, thus to relieve the chief school administrator of burdensome detail which otherwise would interfere with fully effective application of his competence to administration of the educational program; and

"BE IT RESOLVED further that, in accepting Mr. Beahm's resignation, the members of the Board of School Directors, acting individually in their own behalf and collectively in behalf of the citizens of the Donegal Union School District, do hereby record their deep appreciation of Mr. Beahm's long years of dedicated service to the district, and do extend to Mr. Beahm best wishes for many years of well deserved opportunity to pursue other interests."

In 1965, its growing popularity among PP&L customers was shown when 38% of new home buyers chose electric heat.

Mr. BUILDER—Build electric homes and you build what people want—and what will sell.

We chose electric heat because my wife is a new bride

We asked ourselves, "Why start a new way of life with an old way of living? Why have old-fashioned heating with soot, flames and fumes to worry about?" And so we went electric.

We recommend you go electric, too. Electric heating has everything in its favor: low-cost, flexibility, cleanliness, fully automatic and space-saving. It's the 1¢ heat. IF YOU ARE BUILDING—Be sure to tell your builder you want to be modern, you want the best, you want electric heat. IF YOU ARE REMODELING—Call a Reddy Kilowatt Recommended Electric Home Heating Dealer for an estimate. He is listed in the Yellow Pages under "Heating Contractors."
