Borough Council

round the room, councilmen asking questions and getting miscellaneous comments until finally one of the community's budding young politicians spoke up loudly and logically and pointed out that council had said that there would NOT be a hearing tonight.

This extra-curricular "hearing" came as council attempted to explain to the Zoning Commission "why" at its meeting a month ago it unanimously overruled a favorable recommendation.

The commission appeared not to "buy" a very large slice of the explanation.

Later, on Tuesday afternoon, Council President Groff inserted in the Bulletin a legal notice he had signed setting 8 p.m., June 23, as the time for a public hearing. Although council Tuesday night did not authorize such a meeting, it now appears that council will be holding the hearing.

That about covers the Weis Market aspect of the Monday night meeting, except that there was some loud clamoring for the borough solicitor to answer some legal questions. The legal man, however, as usual, was not in attendance. Groff said that he had promised to attend.

This provoked more discussion about the solicitor and Groff kept repeating "I asked him to be here."

As the evening progressed, the theme about the solicitor's absence kept rising to the surface in such urgency that about 11:30 p.m. President Groff asked each councilman, individually, how he felt about having the solicitor present at every meeting of council.

Three gave unequivocal reply that they want the law represented every meeting. One abstained from expressing an opinion and five gave varying degrees of opinion, aimed generally in the direction of saying that "we want him here only when we want him here."

Another 20 minutes of the evening was taken as Councilman Al Kleiner read for the first time the complete ordinance which would give United Transmissions company a 10-year license to operate CATV in Mount Joy. It is anticipated that the ordinance will be passed finally at the July meeting, set for July 11—one week later than usual because the regular meeting date falls on the 4th of July.

A proposal to rezone a 19½ acre tract of land on Donegal Springs Road known as West View Development from residence A to residence B was accepted and ordered sent to the solicitor.

Street Commissioner Sim Horton outlined the proposed 1966 summer street improvement program, for which there is about $20,000 available. The following streets were placed on the "proposed" list:

Frank, between N. Barbara and N. Market; Old Market, between Manheim and North Market; Florin ave, north of Donegal Springs road to dead end; Pine, east of N. Barbara to dead end; N. Barbara, between Main and Manheim;

Comfort, between Marietta and W. Donegal; Willow, between Marietta and W. Donegal; Alley L, between Marietta and Alley R; Alley R, between New Haven and Lumber; Oak, between Pinkerton and S. Market; Pink alley, between N. Angle and Cherry; Cherry, south of Pink 150 feet, and Cherry, between West Wood and dead end.

How many of the above will be done this summer depends upon the outcome of bidding, which is advertised this week. Proposals are to be opened on Monday night, June 27. In its specifications, council asks that the job be completed by October 15.

Two resignations were accepted. Elmer Forwood's announced resignation from the Zoning Commission because of unhappiness about the way the Weis rezoning proposal was handled was read and accepted. No successor was named. Mike Pricio resigned as Civilian Defense Director. George Albert was named to take his post.

Committees on building and borough manager had no progress to report.

Council opened two bids for revamping the "stop" light system on Main street (3 lights) to make them overhead installations and meet state highway requirements. A New Cumberland firm, with a bid of $1,537.52 was low. The installation, using much of the present equipment, will resemble the new Main and Angle street light.
