Mount Joy still is rejoicing about the decision to locate the new vocational-technical school in the borough.

We say "in the borough". But, the facts are that only part of the 106-acre tract is actually inside the borough limits. What, if anything is to be done or needs to be done to have the remaining area annexed into the borough is not known at this time.

In fact, there is no one who knows exactly where the building will be located on the tract. Nor does anyone know whether the entrances will be from Fairview street or from Keller road or from both. (Who said, "Keller road"? Joseph Brene-man, who owned the land in that area, said so.) At one time his grandfather, the late Philip Franck, owned all the land in that area, including what Robert Keller now has).

Official and public decision to locate the new school in this immediate vicinity came after a lengthy survey of the entire situation.

A member of one of the local service clubs (Mount Joy Lions) showed us a copy this week of the minutes of a board meeting (dated early in 1963) when the possibility of a school for Mount Joy was discussed.

Information and contacts were made even then.

And, now that the decision is made as to exact location, it develops that the Lions' swimming pool and the votech school will be neighbors across Fairview street.

One of the nice things about Mount Joy is the "Music in the Park" series, staged each summer in Memorial park.

It is a good program and those who have been responsible are to be commended. When the weather is cooperative — and that is almost every time — the park is a place of real beauty and a spot worthy of even more use than it gets.

However, there is one (Turn to page 5)

SEVEN CENTS

'Music In The Park'

A special Labor Day "Music in the Park" program is set for Monday evening, Sept. 5, it was announced this week by Charles Ashenfelter.

The concert, beginning at 7 p.m., will be given by the Bainbridge Band.

"Music in the Park" is sponsored by the Mount Joy Community Council and is offered free to everyone. Those who attend should take their own folding chairs and blankets.

Take Pupils To Lunch

In the past, noon meals have been delivered to pupils and their teachers at Washington school. This year, boys and girls and their teachers will be delivered to their meals!

A new wrinkle will be initiated this fall, Dr. Ralph Coleman, assistant supervising principal in charge of business, said this week.

At 11:30 a.m. activity at school will be directed toward boarding a bus for lunch at Seiler school. As many as 60 first and second graders will be involved. However, the number is expected to be smaller because some will want to walk to their homes for lunch.

Schoolmen feel that the cost of bussing will be as cheap and possibly cheaper than moving food from the high school, including personnel involved.

At the same time, Dr. Coleman said that cost of school lunches this year will remain as last year, at least for the present. That is 30 cents for first, second and third graders and 35c for all others.

The fact that only three rooms of pupils will be attending classes at Washington make the bussing arrangement possible. And, one of those rooms is kindergarten, which removes that room from the lunch list.

Tells Medical Center Plan

Basic facts concerning the new, Milton Hershey medical center, which under construction, were given Mount Joy Rotarians Tuesday noon at their weekly luncheon meeting at Hostetters.

Dr. Howard Reinert, assistant to the dean of the medical center, was the speaker.

The center, which is planning to accept its first class in the fall of 1967, is situated on a 216-acre tract west of Hershey. An now designed, the school and its 350-bed training hospital will be built in a crescent shape facing westward. It will cost more than $40 million and the seven-story building will include 800,000 square feet of space.

Heads of departments already are being assembled and programs and curriculums are in the planning stages.

Included with the center will be a million dollar animal farm for research.

The school and hospital will employ more than 1,500 people.

The school, which will include graduate facilities, will be the 11th college of Pennsylvania State university.

The program was arranged by Clair Gible, vice-president and the speaker was introduced by Dr. Robert Eshleman.

Stark Is Named Fund Leader

Richard M. Stark of Bachman Chocolate company is this region's large business division chairman for the '66 Lancaster County United Campaign.

So that every firm and all employees are solicited for a contribution in this Region, Stark has named four volunteers to make this contact.

The solicitation will be completed by Glenn Y. Forney of Lancaster County Farmers National Bank; C. Bernard Grissinger, Bachman Chocolate company; Robert Hurst, Bachman Choc. company, and Charles E. Johnson of AMP, Inc. These volunteers will begin making their calls on Sept. 12 the opening day of the campaign.

The goal of $1,398,795 has been set. This will meet the basic needs in 1967 of the 25 health, hospitals, youth, family and child care agencies included in the Lancaster Co. United Campaign.

Donegal District Schools Open Next Wednesday

★ ★ ONLY FEW CHANGES IN BUS SCHEDULES ★ ★

Donegal school district will open its class room doors on Wednesday, Sept. 7, for something more than 2,900 boys and girls!

Schoolmen this week were putting the finishing touches on the plans for the new school year and it was anticipated that a full teaching staff would be ready to occupy all class rooms.

There will be no changes in the opening and dismissal times of the Donegal schools this year. Buses will operate on about the same time schedules with very few changes in bus stops. Transportation schedules for this year are available in each building office. Busses are each marked by letter and number according to the first letter in the driver's name.

The cafeteria food prices at Donegal will be the same as last year. These may have to be changed as the year progresses with increased costs of food and labor and decreases in government surplus foods and supplies.

All students new to the Donegal schools should now be registered in the school office where they expect to attend classes. These offices will be open all day Friday and Tuesday, Sept. 2 and 6, 1966.

The district is planning to open and operate a "Creativity Workshop" for gifted students in fourth, fifth & sixth grades. This was done on a limited basis at the county level at Millersville State college last year on Saturdays, with a few Donegal students participating.

The Donegal high school band will be appearing in its new uniforms this year under the direction of a new director, Glen Leib, formerly director at Eddystone high school, Pa.

The Donegal school district will operate a physical education program for physically handicapped students under the direction of Warren Hayman, beginning this school year. This program is compulsory in all Pennsylvania schools.

School insurance will be offered to all interested students through the Nationwide Insurance company again this school year.

The new official title of the school district is the Donegal School District, as of July 1, 1966. With this new title under the Reorganization, the name "Union" is no longer used.

The School District sponsored summer programs in Reading, under ESEA (Title I), Headstart and Playground including swimming. These were all well attended and successfully completed.

The fall sports program is already underway with the football team at camp, the hockey girls at camp and the soccer team practicing on the W. I. Beahm Junior high school field where they will play their games this season.

'Of This and That'

More petunias: When we spoke two weeks ago of the beautiful plantings of petunias in Mount Joy this summer, we couldn't mention them all, of course. It would have taken a whole page of The Bulletin, perhaps, to do that.

It's hard even to SEE them all—for there are so many.

But a few more of the noteworthy ones we want to mention this week:

On Route 230 just east of the borough are several extremely attractive homes, very colorful with many petunias.

On Donegal Springs Road, between Chocolate Avenue and Spooky Nook road, there are extensive plantings in all hues.

On Main Street, the Lester and Jim Roberts have two gray stone boxes attractively arranged with "Mount Joy's favorite flower!" The Harold Kellers on Marietta avenue have profuse blooms in one of the most attractive colors we've seen.

And so it goes—for a "Petunia Trail," take the road to Manheim, as we did Tuesday evening. All along the way, through the beautiful, rolling farm land, are homes brightened with hundreds of petunias!

Mount Joy has said goodbye to its summer visitor, the Finnish girl, Kristina Jussell, who was a guest for several weeks of the local Rotary Club.

But pleasant memories of Kristina will remain always. (Turn to page 5)
