Rotarians Hear Police Officer

Safety on Pennsylvania's highways was the subject discussed for Mount Joy Rotarians Tuesday noon at Hostetters by Lieut. John Kistler.

He told of the new point system for driving violations, which has become effective in the Commonwealth and discussed some of the most important points which lead to license suspensions.

The proposed, new Route 230 bypass is a "must" he said as he cited statistics to show that four-lane highways do save lives.

He emphasized the importance of using seat belts

Pennsylvania, he said is first in the larger states in over all highway safety and sixth in the entire U. S.

The program was arranged and the speaker introduced by Charles Brooks.

Tuesday noon, Rotarians who had perfect attendance during the past year were given recognition. Five were cited for records stretching more than 20 years. They were: Harold Endslo, 23 years; Art Mayer, 26; Walter Sloan, 27; Isaac Morris 29, and Christ Walters, 38.

FOURTH GRADE TOUR

The Fourth Grade students from Seiler School visited the Mount Joy Bulletin and the Library on Wednesday morning, Nov. 2. It was a very interesting and enlightening tour, which was a follow up of the "World in Focus," a TV News program viewed each Friday. The visit to the Library helped emphasize Book Week. Teachers are Miss Heisey and Mrs. Good.

TAKE FIELD TRIP

The two third grades of Seiler School, taught by Miss Dorothy Kaylor and Mrs. Margaret Hart, went on a field trip on Thursday, November 3rd. The trip included visits to Penn Dairies, the Planetarium at Franklin and Marshall College, and the Lancaster Airport. The group was accompanied by Mrs. William Bitzer, Mrs. Gerald Miller, Mrs. Charles Drace, and Warren Funk.
