

Miss Teen Age

... answers questions about Junior Miss etiquette, grooming and interests.

Q. Head scarves are on all the fashion pages this year, but I can't seem to tie them for the right look. Mom says I look like a "washer woman" with one on! How can they be worn with long straight hair?

A. How right you are! Scarves are "in" head-gear now, but not in the old-fashioned "babushka" style. To wear a scarf as a hat, tuck your hair into an up-do with no loose ends. Fold a medium-sized scarf into a triangle and tie under the back of your hair. Leave the point of the triangle out of the knot. It's a great cover-up when your hair doesn't look its best. If your hair is below-shoulder-length, fold a scarf into a strip and tie it around your hair at the nape of your neck, letting the scarf ends fall prettily to the length of your hair.

Q. Help! How can I get my white wool mittens clean? They look just as grubby when I've washed them as when I've worn them for a while!

A. Let your fingers do the washing! Put the mittens on and then "wash your hands" in a basin of cool water and suds. Rub hardest where fingers and palms get really dirty. Pour a little detergent directly from the bottle on stubborn spots. Slip the mittens off to rinse in clear water. Squeeze to remove excess moisture. Then roll in a towel. Don't wring. Plump each mitten with a wadded Kleenex paper towel or two and place in a warm place to dry. They'll be white and bright!

Q. I'm giving a party next weekend and everything is all set except the room. It's my dull, drab, basement! All we have are card tables and chairs and a long snack table. That's not very hip! How can I fix it up without spending a lot?

A. Go pseudo-psychedelic! It's fun to decorate with adhesive covering in lots of bright, bold colors cut into wild psychedelic shapes. Marvalon vinyl-coated adhesive covering sticks to table tops and chair seats, but comes right up afterwards without any damage. Blanket the room with psychedelic patterns and you'll get raves for the "hippiest" party of the season!

Landisville, has been promoted to chairman of the board, effective Monday, January 1 the Company announced. Edwin J. Schuz, vice president and sales manager, moves to president succeeding Snavelly.

In other top management changes, Rene C. Cottrel was named vice president and sales manager; Mary Myers, Secretary; J. William Snavelly, vice president and assistant secretary, and Jere M. Snavelly, treasurer.

The company, which has about 25 employees, makes and distributes silos, barn cleaners and grain bins.

A curfew ordinance restricting minors under 18 years was passed recently by the West Hempfield Township board of supervisors. The ordinance restricts teenagers 17 years and under from being on township streets after 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and past midnight on Friday and Saturday unless accompanied by an adult.

Police Chief Lester Myers said groups of youngsters from surrounding areas where curfews already exist have been coming into West Hempfield after the other curfews are in effect.

East Petersburg Rotary Club presented "Hunza Land" a travel and adventure Series color movie, narrated by Renee Taylor on Saturday evening, January 6 at 8 p.m. in the Hempfield Union high school, Landisville.

Fifty-nine young musicians from 17 area high schools will combine their talents with other musicians in the annual Southern District Orchestra Festival to be held on January 19 and 20 at Hanover Senior high school.

Representatives from East Hempfield Union high school are as follows: Lorene Gottshall, cello; Galen Graham, St. Bass; Linda Buleson, viola; Cindy Ansalvish, bassoon; Jay Miller, trumpet; Steve Spiere, trumpet; Beverly Krow, violin; Becky Bushong, violin; Mark Dougherty, violin; Bruce Kuehne, violin; Suzette Alleman, clarinet.

LANDISVILLE - SALUNGA NEWS

The Hempfield Sertoma Club met on Wednesday evening, January 3, at 6:30 p.m. at the Mount Joy American Legion Post Home. Mr. John Snyder from Elizabethtown was the guest speaker. Mr. Snyder is associated with the Elizabethtown Crippled Childrens hospital.

Robert R. Good was re-elected chairman of the East Hempfield Township Board of Supervisors.

Other officers elected were J. G. Longenecker, vice-chairman, and B. L. Greider, secretary. Harold L. Myers was appointed to the board of Zoning adjustment.

During a brief business meeting, the supervisors decided to include extra police in the 1968 budget. Plans were discussed to add at least one fulltime and one parttime policeman. The present force includes the police chief, one fulltime man and one part time man.

Jesse Snavelly Jr., president of Snavelly Silo Sales Inc.,

Advertising Doesn't Cost — It Pays!

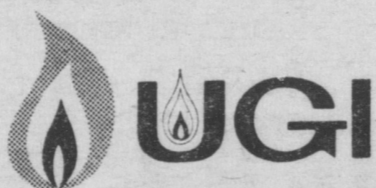

Many UGI people work extra shifts (for the community)

It's because they are almost as dedicated to their communities as they are to the place where they work. They get deeply involved in civic and welfare programs.

Off-duty, they work on Red Cross, Community Chest or United Fund drives. Attend meetings of the local PTA, Chamber of Commerce or Rotary. They coach or manage a 95-lb. football team, or a Little League baseball team.

They're the people who make UGI what it is. They're taxpayers and neighbors, contributing their time, effort and money. Personally involved in the same civic projects and charities as yourself.

AN INVESTOR-OWNED, TAXPAYING UTILITY

ONE IN SIX

4-H ALUMNI

One of every six adults in the U.S. has been a 4-H member, claims the Cooperative Extension Service. At the present time the total 4-H Alumni in 50 states is some 26 million men and women. Their influence in community, state and nation is often noteworthy and merits special attention. One such way is through the 4-H Alumni Recognition program, now in its 15th year.

Men and women from all walks of life are nominated by friends and relatives for alumni honors including awards provided annually by the program sponsor, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation.

Among prominent people who have received the 4-H alumni gold key—the highest award—are educators, businessmen, statesmen, farmers, entertainers, clergymen and an astronaut.

They include Edd H. Bailey, president of Union Pacific Railroad; Mary Merryfield, a syndicated newspaper columnist; Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr.; Roy Rogers, movie and television star; Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, past president of General Federation of Women's Clubs; Robert Simpkins, prominent New Jersey farmer; J. Earl Coke, recently retired vice president, Bank of America, and Dr. George W. Beadle, president, University of Chicago.

This year scores of qualified candidates will be considered for 4-H alumni award, according to 4-H leaders. Each county will select four residents for local recognition and the alumni pin.

During the past three years more than 6,300 persons received the alumni recognition pin.

Four men and women also may be named for 1967 state honors. Each will receive a handsome bronze and walnut plaque appropriately inscribed. The 4-H alumni key is presented annually to eight national winners at the alumni banquet held during the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

For information on how to submit names for alumni awards, contact the county extension office. The former 4-H'er need not now reside in his home county or state.

Engagements

GARBER—KIRKPATRICK

The engagement of Miss Sally Ann Kirkpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirkpatrick, 820 West Square St., to Ronald Lee Garber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee M. Garber, R1, Elizabethtown, is announced by Miss Kirkpatrick's parents.

Miss Kirkpatrick is a senior at Donegal high school, and Mr. Garber is employed by AMP, Elizabethtown. A July wedding is planned.

WEBER — FARMER

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Farmer, Jr., 648 Main St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Connie Lee Farmer, to Kenneth Edward Weber, son of Mrs. Ida Weber, 45 E. Main St., and the late George Weber.

The couple are alumni of Donegal high school, Miss Farmer in 1966 and Mr. Weber in 1967.

Miss Farmer is a senior at Wesley College, Dover, Del. Her fiancé is employed in the printing department of Armstrong Cork Co.

A fall wedding is planned.

WITMER—BAMBRICK

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Ann Marie Bambrick to Harold Eugene Witmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Witmer, Mt. Joy R1, by Miss Bambrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bambrick, 546 E. Orange St., Lancaster.

A 1965 graduate of Lancaster Catholic high school, Miss Bambrick is employed as a secretary by Raub Supply Company, Lancaster.

Mr. Witmer was graduated from Manheim Central high school in '61 and attended Lebanon Valley College.

A former activities coordinator for the Prairie View Mental Health Center, Newton, Kansas, he is presently employed by Raub Supply Company.

A fall wedding is planned.

GOP WOMEN TO MEET

At noon on Tuesday, Jan. 16, the Lancaster County Women's Republican Club will hold a luncheon at the Elks Club, Lancaster. Judge W. Hensel Brown will speak on "How Our Courts Operate". Members and guests are requested to make reservations at the Women's Republican Club.

A board meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the Poker Room of the Elks Club on the morning of January 16.

Exempted From English Comp

Seven Hempfield H. S. graduates are among 7,700 who began their college studies at Penn State University in September who were exempted from the basic course in English composition.

The 696 students who qualified for exemption are graduates of 384 different secondary schools and other preparatory schools.

They include: D. Susan Eiwien, Suzanne Fryberger, Cynthia Gingrich, James Grube, Margaret Jean Jones, Kathrine S. Keller and Susan E. McKeel.

Advertising Doesn't Cost — Miss Bambrick is employed It Pays!