King Crab Key To Quick Casserole

If you value convenience in the kitchen, then take note of this quick crab casserole. Featuring Alaska King crab, it is elegant enough to be served for a special luncheon or supper.

The secret of fast preparation is found in the ingredients. Alaska King crab is combined with uncooked noodles and Frenchfried onions in a sauce made with shrimp soup and mayonnaise. Garnished with additional onions, the casserole is baked until thick and bubbly.

Both canned and frozen Alaska King crab are pre-cooked and ready for immediate use. Free of cartilage and tendons, it needs no additional preparation.

1	Quick King Crab	Casserole
_1	$(7\frac{1}{2} \text{ oz.})$ can Alaska King $\frac{1}{4}$	cup mayonnaise 🔪
	crab or $\frac{1}{2}$ pound frozen	Dash salt, pepper and
	Alaska King crab, thawed	Tabasco
1	(10-oz.) can frozen shrimp 2 soup, thawed	cups uncooked narrow noodles
2/3	cup milk 1	$(3\frac{1}{2} \text{ oz.})$ can French-fried
1/4	cup grated Cheddar cheese	onions

Drain crab and slice. Heat soup and milk. Add to crab along with remaining ingredients, reserving some onion for garnish. Pour into buttered casserole. Garnish with reserved onion. Cover and bake at 350-degrees for 20 minutes. Remove cover. Bake 10 minutes longer. Makes 4 servings.
