THE Prayer of the Week

The prayer this week is by Lady Jane Grey:

"O Merciful God, be Thou now unto me a strong tower of defense, I humbly entreat Thee. Give me grace to await Thy leisure, and patiently to bear what Thou doest unto me; nothing doubting or mistrusting Thy goodness towards me; for Thou knowest what is good for me better than I do.

"Therefore do with me in all things what Thou wilt; only arm me, I beseech Thee, with Thine armor, that I may stand fast; above all things, taking me the shield of faith; praying always that I may refer myself wholly to Thy will, abiding Thy pleasure, and comforting myself in those troubles which it shall please Thee to send me; and I am assuredly persuaded that all Thou doest cannot but be well; and unto Thee be all honor and glory." Amen.

LANDISVILLE - SALUNGA NEWS

Miss Grace Henderson

William M. Alleman, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alleman, 3213 Elm Avenue, Lancaster, received the God and Country award at the morning worship service recently of the Hempfield United Methodist church.

The presentation of the award from Rev. Bruce Lenich, pastor of the church, climaxed over a year's concentrated effort during which the young First Class Scout participated in a program of study and service relating him more closely to his church and to the basic concepts of Christianity. William is a member of Boy Scout Troop 41, sponsored by the Landisville Fire Co. Christ Greider is the leader of Troop 41.

Miss Judith Fry, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Fry Jr., Columbia R2 was the Hempfield high school senior who was entered in the "Miss Greater Lancaster" Contest held recently. The Hempfield girl performed a song and dance routine.

A Landisville girl has been named to the Dean's List at Purdue University, for the second semester. Miss Barbara Meredith, 105 Main St., Landisville, achieved the honor. Majoring in humanities she attained at least a 5.5 average out of a possible 6.0.

The annual family picnic covered dish supper of Society of Farm Women 4 was held in the Salunga Fire Co. pavilion recently with approximately 60 persons attending.

The president, Mrs. Richard King, announced the executive board of the Society of Farm Women of Lancaster County will meet on August 7 at 12:30 p.m. in the Salunga Pavilion Saturday; Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Shenk entertained the children with relays and a peanut scramble.

Adult games were conducted by Miss Alice Marie Nissley and Mrs. Mary Snyder.

Others receiving awards were Karen Herr, most colorful girl; Debbie Stadler, prettiest; Sandy Smith, a look alike; Renee Dechold, devilish; Fritz Dunbar and Gregory Eck, funniest girl and boy costumes. Jan and Brian Filling, funniest couple; Melanie Ault, Michele Getz and Jenny Hess, oldest family. Earl L. Potts, fifth grade teacher at Mountville is the supervisor.

"God and Community" the highest religious award in Girl Scouting, was presented to three sisters, Mindy, Cindy, and Judy McKonly, by their pastor, the Rev. Bruce L. Lenich on Sunday morning July 29 at Hempfield United Methodist church service.

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John McKonly, 3651 Horizon Dr., Lancaster, the girls are members of Girl Scout Troop #67, Hempfield Neighborhood of the Penn Laurel Council. Mrs. James Beamesderfer is the troop leader. To become eligible for the award, the girls had to fulfill specific standards involving participation in the total program of the church. Mindy will be a freshman at Millersville State College. Cindy is a senior and Judy will be a junior.

The Hempfield Sertoma club held a Golf match with the Conestoga club on Wednesday, July 31 at the Evergreen course. A buffet lunch was held at the Distelfink after the match.

The 25th Anniversary of the Class of '43 of Hempfield high school was held recently at the Stock Yard Inn, in Lancaster. After dinner and reminiscing, Amos Herr of Landisville showed slides of the school and various points of interest in Landisville.

★ LETTER To The Editor

Dear Citizens of Mount Joy Area:

We, the management of the Mount Joy swimming pool would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you for your cooperation in a job well done during the Y.M.C.A. Suburban League Championships, held at the pool last Saturday.

I have never seen a town turn out en masse to support a youth activity such as the people of Mount Joy did. This helped people from all over the county to see that Mount Joy is not only willing to be host, but a perfect one "to boot".

Mount Joy deserves a title as the perfect town in which to live, work and play.

Lions Club Pool Auth.

Candidate Tours Mount Joy

What are the people thinking?

That was one of the things Robert M. Goings, Democratic candidate for the U. S. House of Representatives was seeking to learn Friday, August 2, when he paid Mount Joy a "dawn to dusk" visit.

They are concerned, he found, about farm prices, farm profit squeeze, taxes, war and peace, security on the streets, the post office department's race with disaster and many others.

"I got up early to catch some farmers," the Lancaster attorney's said following a stop at the Farmers Coop, where milk was being delivered.

During the remainder of the day he followed a hand shaking tour of the community — stores, factories, swimming pool, street corners, business houses, restaurants, etc.

A strictly non-political appearance was at the Messiah Home.

He was accompanied on his tour by Jack Matoney, Florin ward Democratic committeeman.

AWARDED TRIP

Three Donegal high school students, Patricia Greiner, April Borry and Carol Zimmerman, have returned from Murray Hill, N. J. where on July 25 they were guests for the day of the Bell Telephone Company at its laboratory.

The trip was a part of the awards the young people won at the County Science Fair in the spring. It was given by the United States Army. John Hays from the Bell Telephone area office in Reading accompanied them.

An Editorial

Grown men, responsible men, intelligent men, aspiring men, powerful men — have been participating in what is a special kind of American circus not seen anywhere else in the world.

Yet, out of this combination of comedy and serious work which is only barely visible to the onlookers, come the ingredients of government.

From this vast wasteland of hubbub arrives the candidate who may possibly be at the helm of the ship of state within a very few months.

Those who think seriously about government are inclined to wonder if all the turmoil fits the worthiness and the importance of the political campaign. More and more the system is being challenged.

For, it takes strong faith to believe that calm and order can be combed out of all the chaos which we see and hear.

More and more Americans are not enjoying the show as much as they are critical of the goings on. Americans are beginning to want something meatier, something more stable, something stronger and something more important than the glitter of political conventions.

Americans are becoming more concerned about their government and about the direction in which its leaders are pointing the country.

There is more talk about a third party — about George Wallace and about the great similarities between the two major parties. People are concerned and they would feel better this week if the noise, enthusiasm and meaningless energy had been directed solidly toward solving problems and setting up dignified plans for a better America.

It is this hope for a more realistic and intellectual approach to government which has made McCarthy popular with a widening number of people.

Even more and more, the people are feeling the thrust of government upon them and the burden of it upon their backs and more and more they are challenging the hackneyed and shop-worn methods of promise and parade.
