Sabbatical

gal) for a year's service following the leave.

Donegal school found that it had no policy to cover the situation.

The matter was considered at length by the board and finally advice and legal opinion was taken from the district solicitor.

His opinion, which Thursday night was voted into policy, is that any teacher who is granted a sabbatical, shall either fulfill the requirements of returning or shall reimburse the district for all benefits - salary, taxes, insurance, etc -- which have been paid during the leave.

Thursday night Mrs. Llewellyn did resign and the resignation was accepted, subject to the above policy.

During the same meeting, Emerson Stehman, science teacher who also was on sabbatical last year, made overtures to the board to learn whether or not he could continue his leave to accept a second year of graduate work at the University of Maryland.

The board granted him the option of taking the leave, if he so desires (but with no compensation during the second year from Donegal) but with the provision that he still owes Donegal a year of service as part of the obligation of the sabbatical during the 1967-68 school year.

Teachers in the Donegal district are eligible for sabbaticals if:

1. — They have been a teacher for 10 years and
2. — Have taught in the Donegal District five years.

They receive 50 per cent of their normal pay and have an obligation to return to the district as a teacher for at least a year. Sabbaticals are granted for study, travel or sickness. A second sabbatical may be granted after a seven-year interval.

His were in the 50-meter freestyle and the 25-meter butterfly.

COMPLETES DEPLOYMENT

Joeman First Class Clarence E. Wagner, Jr., USN, 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Wagner of 715 E. Wood St., and husband of the former Miss Minerva J. Buller of Square St., has just completed a six-month deployment in the Gulf of Tonkin off the coast of North Vietnam aboard the attack carrier USS Ticonderoga.

As a crewmember, he helped to provide air support to U. S. and Allied ground forces ashore in South Vietnam. He also helped to provide the necessary support to the squadron of Air Wing 19 so that they could fly combat missions against the enemy.

Rural, Urban Jobs Aim of Scott Bill

By U.S. SENATOR HUGH SCOTT

The Prouty-Scott Job Opportunities Act of 1968, which I introduced in the Senate, would provide jobs in rural areas and cities where unemployment is high.

My bill would encourage private employers to train the hard-core unemployed and help States and local communities create public service jobs for those still unable to get work in private business.

Progress Aerospace Enterprises, Inc., of Philadelphia is one good example of how private enterprise and Government are currently working together to ease hard-core unemployment and severe poverty. This is a new, private firm established with the help of Rev. Leon Sullivan, Board Chairman of Opportunities Industrialization Center, Inc., to provide jobs in ghetto areas and train the unemployed people there to fill them. The company manufactures highly complicated parts for satellites. Rev. Sullivan wrote a very nice letter to me this month about my efforts to help him get a Federal grant of $522,462 to help Progress Aerospace train 100 ghetto residents in the needed technical skills for permanent jobs there.

Similar job opportunities have been opened in other ghetto areas in Philadelphia by Mullin and Lonergan Associates, Inc.; James G. Biddle Co.; and the R.E.D.M. Corp.; and in Pittsburgh by Constructors Jobs, Inc.; Zell Brothers Inc.; and Elliott Co.

Made In U.S.A.

Last month we won a victory for American products, and for Pennsylvania in particular. I have been working for many years, with a fairly good batting average, to get Uncle Sam to spend more Government money here at home rather than buying goods abroad.

The Federal Government buys goods and services that represent more than 10 percent of our gross national product, and I contend that our money should be put to use to help our own producers and workers.

Back in July, 1962, I was successful in having President Kennedy intervene in a Government purchase of steel for American vessels. Following my request, the President directed that a steel contract be awarded to the lowest American bidder rather than to a foreign producer. A month later, the Government changed its interpretation of the Buy American Act to require that more U.S. Government contracts go to domestic producers.

Recently I wrote to President Johnson urging a change in Navy procurement policies under which ships' propellers, which had previously been purchased in the U.S., were now being bought from foreign suppliers.

I was concerned that continued buying of such items abroad would lead to an erosion of domestic sources and put the Defense Department at the mercy of foreign suppliers. Then last month I got a letter from the Navy telling me it was changing its policy and would purchase these propellers from the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp. of Philadelphia.

Supreme Court

In the Senate Judiciary Committee, on which I serve, there was a good deal of controversy over the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Nothing that came up during those turbulent hearings caused me to doubt Justice Fortas' qualifications, or the President's right to make the appointment. Therefore, I announced my support.

New Laws

The President this month signed into law two bills which I co-sponsored.

One would improve prison systems. Inadequate correctional systems sometimes return to society criminals who are more hardened than they were before they went to prison. This law authorizes the Federal Bureau of Prisons to assist state and local governments in improving conditions and rehabilitation programs in their prisons.

The other would allow the money which the Government gets from the leasing of oil and gas rights on the Outer Continental Shelf to be used for land and water conservation. This money will also help finance the kind of park and recreation projects which are so important to Pennsylvania. It is fitting that Federal funds obtained through one natural resource can now be used to conserve others.

Jets for Israel

Maj. Gen. Yitzhak Rabin, Israel's Ambassador to the United States, was a guest on my television and radio program. We discussed Israel's achievements and military needs. Since the Six-Day War of last year, the Soviet Union has completely rearmed the Arab nations with highly sophisticated weapons and advanced Russian jet fighters. Last month I asked the President to authorize the sale of supersonic Phantom jets to Israel to match the performance of Russian jets in Nasser's arsenal.

Drug Costs

I cosponsored a bill which would require each state to list by generic and brand names the most frequently prescribed drugs paid for under Federal-state medical and welfare programs. It would enable physicians to prescribe the highest-quality, lowest-cost drug available, and should help to ease the financial burdens of medical care, particularly upon elderly citizens who live on a fixed income.
